PRINCE ARTHUR AND DUCHESS OF FIFE WED AT NOON TODAY

ELEGANT ROYAL MARRIAGE ATTENDED BY EXCLUSIVE FEW

Ceremony Simple as Possible Although Guests Included Largest Gathering of Royalty Since Coronation of King George.

London, Oct. 15.—Remarkable simplicity for a royal ceremony characterized the wedding of Prince Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Fife in the Chapel Royal of St. James Palace at noon today. With such a setting of ornate decorations and richly painted ceiling, as the quaint old room presents with the uniforms of the men of the royal family and court officials and the jewels worn by the ladies, the ceremony itself had a tinge of the spectacular. But compared with the recent wedding of the daughter of Emperor William and devoid of all ceremonial and military display the ceremony was as simple as adherence to traditions would permit.

Partley because of the mourning for the recent tragic death of the Duke of Fife, whose fatal illness was brought about by the hardships suffered in being shipwrecked on the coast of Morocco, and partly because both the bride and bridegroom are constitutionally averse to display, it was decided to have the wedding a family affair. There was a large group of royalties from other countries present, including the King and Queen of Denmark and Norway, Prince Henry of Prussia, the Dowager Empress Marie of Russia and the Crown Prince and Princess of Sweden, but they attended only as relatives and there were no guests of state from abroad.

The king gave away the bride while the Princess Royal, mother of the bride, also supported her at the altar. The bridegroom's supporters were his father, the Duke of Connaught, and the Prince of Wales.

The Archbishop of Canterbury conducted the marriage service, assisted by the Bishop of London and Canon Sheppard, also dean and sub-dean of the chapels royal. During the ceremony the king and queen occupied gilded chairs on a raised dais directly facing the altar and close behind the bride and bridegroom.

The ceremony began at noon and was finished before 1 o'clock. Prince Arthur, the bride, and other personages who took part, were driven from their palaces and residences in royal carriages, and the whole company, including the ambassadors and ministers of foreign powers, were marshalled to their seats by high state officials in their regalia.

There were three semi-state processions from St. James Palace to the chapel, by way of the state apartments and the grand stairway into Colour Court. These processions were composed of the clergy, the bridegroom with his suite and the bride with her supporters, bridesmaid and pages. When the three princes took their stand before the altar railing the bride entered the chapel between King George and her mother. She was gowned in a dainty dress of white charmeuse embroidered with pearls and diamonds, and adorned with exquisite Brussels applique lace, of which the bridal veil also was made.

Much admiration was expressed at the appearance of the five bridesmaids, who were: Princess Mary, daughter of the king and queen; Princess Maud, only sister of the bride; Princess Victoria and Princess Helena of Teck, daughters of the Duke and Duchess of Teck, and Princess Mary, the little daughter of Prince and Princess Alexander of Teck. Their gowns were made of shell pink charmeuse and cream lace, and they carried bouquets of carnations and lilies, the same flowers as decorated the chapel royal.

The pages were little Prince John, the king's youngest son, and Prince Olaf of Norway, a great popular favorite in England.

Prince Arthur wore his uniform as a captain of the Royal Scots Grays, with its bright scarlet tunic and high bearskin busby. All the men among his royal relatives also wore military uniforms covered with decorations. The king was dressed as a field marshal.

The ceremony was performed by the Archbishop of Canterbury, the Bishop of London, as dean of the Chapels Royal, and Canon Sheppard, sub-dean of the chapels royal.

Prince Arthur and his bride uttered the responses in firm, clear voices.

After the ceremony the Archbishop of Canterbury delivered a short address, in which he pointed out that, while only a few had been able to be present at the ceremony, millions of Britons all over the world joined in rejoicing at the marriage of an English prince and princess.

The ceremony was finished within three-quarters of an hour. Then the royal procession reformed, with the king and queen directly after the wedded couple, and withdrew to the historic picture gallery of St. James palace, where the register was signed by all the royal witnesses, the clergy and the principal members of the cabinet.

It was originally planned to have a wedding breakfast of 300 covers in the banquetting hall of the palace, but this idea was abandoned, and in its stead, Prince Arthur and the bride held an informal reception there to the guests before taking their departure. After the reception the young couple were escorted to their carriage by the King and the Prince of Wales. An escort of the Scots Greys, Prince Arthur's regiment, was drawn up outside the palace, and escorted the carriage to Pottman Square. This was the only military display connected with the wedding. The couple left later in the afternoon for their honeymoon, but motored from town, and their destination is a secret. The trosseau of the bride was British made and of their materials so far as possible. The gifts included some very valuable and rare Irish lace, some of it family heirlooms. Much fine embroidery has been done in Scotland and some of the gowns were of silk from Spitalfields. The Duchess of Fife is devoted to sport and a number of homespun gowns, coats and skirts were made from materials woven by the peasants of her home dis-

WILSON AND BRYAN SEND SHARP NOTES TO MEXICAN HEAD

BELIEVED BY MANY THAT BREAK IS UNAVOIDABLE

U.S. Cabinet Members Express Astonishment at Huerta's Audacity — Huerta's Reply Impertinent.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The United States governemnt yesterday informed Provisional President Huerta that it looked with abhorence and amazement upon his assumption of both executive and legislative powers in Mexico, and that in view of his course could not regard as constitutional the elections planned for October 26.

Two notes, the one strongly phrased and written by Secretary Bryan, inquiring about the safety of the imprisoned members of the Mexican congress, and the other drawn in forceful language by President Wilson himself are said to constitute practically the last efforts of the Washington government to deal with the Huerta authorities by diplomatic means until there is a decided change of spirit on the part of the officials in Mexico City. The negotiations through John Lind had progressed to the point where the state department accepted the endorsement of Federico Gamboa for the presidency as meaning the elimination of Huerta and where it was confidently hoped that a fair and free election would be held on October 26. Now, however, President Wilson has made it clear that the Washington government had, with the events of the last few days, the imprisonment of the deputies, and the establishment of a dictatorship by Huerta, lost all hope of seeing a constitutional election held by the Huerta regime. The steps taken by the United States were formally communicated to all foreign governments. No further communications are planned through diplomatic circles, and it would not be surprising if John Lind, who has been waiting at Vera Cruz to observe the manner of the Huerta officials in carrying out their promises, should return to the United States at once.

Think Huerta Audacious.

Huerta's decrees proclaiming himself as in charge of the department of the interior, administration, finance and war were received here yesterday and the text given out at the state department. The documents were read at the cabinet meeting and members of the cabinet expressed themselves as astonished at the audacity of General Huerta. They were apprized by President Wilson of the nature of the two communications sent to General Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy, and all voiced approval of the vigorous representations. The cabinet meeting was about to adjourn when press despatches announced that Senor Querido Moheno, Mexican minister of foreign affairs, had characterized the American communication as intemperate. Official Washington last night awaited the formal reply being drafted by the Huerta administration. Charge O'Shaughnessy reported that he had conveyed both communications and had been assured with respect to the imprisoned deputies that no violence would be done them, but that they would be tried for sedition.

It is the second note of the American government which is said to be only 159 words in length practically breaking off negotiations with Huerta, which is believed to have prompted the foreign minister to use the term "intemperate." Officials hold that with most of the members of the Mexican's congress in jail and prominent members of congress who dared speak adversely to the Huerta administration still mysteriously concealed; and the congress dissolved, it is impossible for the civilized world

PREMIER DELIVERS BUDGET SPEECH SHOWING SATISFACTORY SURPLUS

GEORGE W. MASSIE.

Who has just been appointed Magistrate for the City of Edmonton.

GEO. W. MASSIE IS MAGISTRATE OF EDMONTON

Lawyers Gratified at Appointment of Member of Their Own Profession.

That which has long been desired by the barristers and solicitors of Edmonton, the selection of a man of their own profession for the office of police magistrate, was realized this morning when George W. Massie, appointed by the provincial government, assumed the role of arbiter of the city's troubles in police court.

The office of police magistrate has been under advisement of the attorney-general's department for a long time, due to the department's inability to secure a satisfactory and logical appointee.

Mr. Massie's career as a lawyer in Edmonton has been meteoric. Coming here as a young law student eight years ago, he became associated with the firm of Emory, Newell and Bolton, where he served an apprenticeship and acted in the capacity of law clerk for three years.

Successfully passing the examinations for entrance to the bar, he "hung out his shingle" and opened offices in the Victoria block. From the very start success seemed to favor him, and today he enjoys a large and most lucrative practice.

In the absence of E. B. Cogswell, Mr. Massie has acted as the crown prosecutor for the attorney-general's department, and more recently as city prosecutor. It is in view of his work and ability in those offices that recognition has been made by the department in appointing him police magistrate of the city of Edmonton.

Born in Frederickton, N.B., Mr. Massie attended the schools there, and then entered the University of New Brunswick, securing the degree of bachelor of arts. From that institution he took a post graduate course at Yale and there gained the degree of B.A.

Since he first came to Edmonton Mr. Massie has associated himself with such exclusive clubs as the Edmonton club, golf club, the curlers, and has taken keen interest in sports and public affairs. He is also a member of the convocation of Alberta University.

NEW ZEALAND LOAN FAILS.

London, Oct. 15—New Zealand has been no more fortunate than Canada in her big loan of £3,500,000, only eight per cent. being taken up by the public, and 92 per cent. left with the underwriters.

NO AGREEMENT AS YET REACHED WITH INTERURBAN

Committee Demands Fares From Passengers in City to Prevent Double Charge

The public works committee could not reach an agreement this morning with the representatives of the Edmonton Interurban railway and the delegation of citizens from St. Albert who are pressing for a settlement of the differences between the two lines. J. E. Wallbridge, representing the company, stated this morning to the committee that an agreement could not be entered into unless the city allows the company to collect an extra fare on the piece of temporary track which they are offering to build from Calder to connect with the present terminus of the city's system on Twenty-fourth street.

On the other hand the members of the committee were unanimous in insisting that the company allow the city to charge a fare from all interurban passengers as soon as they reach the city limits. This they claim to be the only possible arrangement that will protect the citizens living in that neighborhood, as according to the proposal of the company they would be compelled to pay two fares to get to the centre of the city although they live within the city limits.

One member of the delegation suggested that the city issue transfers to passengers outgoing and the company do the same in the case of incoming passengers. It was also suggested that the company split up the extra fare charged on the new temporary connecting link of the system, giving the city 2 1-2 cents of every fare which they claimed would be like found money since the city is not spending a dollar on this part of the system. Both these propositions were turned down by the committee and the members insisted that unless the company is ready to undertake an agreement which will allow a straight charge of five cents as soon as passengers reach the city limits it would be impossible to reach an agreement that would pass the city council. The representatives of the company present this morning were Messrs. C. E. Barry, M. Kimpe, F. Santallier, Solicitor J. E. Wallbridge and a number of others.

The committee adjourned until Friday morning at 10 o'clock when the matter will be further discussed and another attempt made to reach an agreement.

Figures Give Wonderful View of Country's Progress

Expenditures During 1913 Were $5,164,390 and Receipts $5,272,175, Leaving Handsome Balance on Right Side of $108,145—Hon. Mr. Sifton Shatters Tory Declaration that Provincial Credit is at a Standstill.

GIST OF THE BUDGET

Estimated surplus of revenue in excess of expenditure $108,145.

Surplus from telephone department, over and above all expenses for operation, sinking fund, etc., $100,000.

One million dollars for telephone extensions in 1914.

One million dollars additional for farmers' elevators.

One million dollars for trunk roads, bridges and drainage.

Tax upon unearned increment in land values.

Liberal appropriations for agriculture and education.

Alberta will further its progressive policy and it has the means to do so. Will not hesitate to spend money where money is needed and to place farmers on the highest plane in America. Liberality and economy where required, sound credit, business-like administration are reflected in the legislative budget.

It was refreshing to hear Premier Sifton's honest notes of confidence, loyalty, progressiveness and optimism in the budget speech yesterday. For days those who have visited the parliament buildings have heard nothing but dismal forebodings. The opposition would have the people believe that provincial credit was impaired; that public works were at a standstill; that the province was burdened as the result of maladministration, and all because the people were not sufficiently "enlightened" to place the tories in power. In splendid form, and with the greatest of magnanimity, the premier placed his critics on the defensive. While he welcomed and invited criticism, said the premier, he did not welcome the kind of criticism that kept people and capital out of the province and tended to discredit Alberta in the eyes of the financial world. Such criticism did not savor of provincial pride.

It was with a tone of pride that Premier Sifton referred to the fact that the telephone department would this year show a net surplus of $100,000. No country had ever attempted such an extensive telephone system as that in Alberta, nor one so expensive. The object of the department was not to make money so much as to serve the people. Lines had been extended into unprofitable territory, solely that the settlers might be accommodated. It was a tremendous undertaking, yet it paid and would be continued.

The premier reminded his hearers that the opposition had characterized the farmers' elevator bill as a vote catcher and the proposition as chimerical. Yet scores of farmers' elevators were being operated today as a result and the intention of the government was to continue the good work unitl every agricultural section of the province was free from trust domination.

Forward was the dominant note in the budget speech which was greeted with tremendous applause. The full text follows:

CAPT. INCH BADLY HURT WHILE FIGHTING FLAMES

Little Slavic Tot, All Alone in the World, Among the Rescued —Lubricating Oil is Successfully Used on Waves.

New York, Oct. 15.—A wireless message received here last night from one of the survivors on the Kronland told of Captain Inch's heroism. Although the Volturno's commander did not mention the fact in his own story of the disaster it developes that he was badly injured in fighting the flames. When he finally boarded the Gronland, his doomed ship at last abandoned, his face was scorched and blackened from the fire and smoke, his arms and hands were burned, his uniform was charred, and in tatters, and the flames had practically eaten the shoes from his feet as he trod the hot decks. All the while he preserved his pose, and though ready to drop from exhaustion, calmed his passengers with cheerful, hopeful words and did not cease his efforts until he had seen to it himself that the last of those in his care was off the ship in safety and that those who had gone with him to the Kronland had been given proper care and suitable clothing.

Lonely Little Tot Saved.

London, Oct. 15.—Among the rescued on the Devonian was a golden-haired, blue-eyed girl of four, who had been brought to the Devonian in a boat.

The women passengers crowded around the little tot and after petting and carressing her tried in every way to find out who she was. The little one was so prepossessing in her manners and the fact that she was apparently all alone in the world appealed to the women and several wanted to adopt her at once.

A dozen languages were tried on the little one but she did not seem to understand any of them. Finally some one who understood Slavic spoke to her in that language and it was discovered that the tot was a Hungarian. When she heard her own language her eyes brightened and her tongue loosened at once. She prattled away at a great rate and talked constantly of her uncle, Heldik Paul, who was taking her to Binghamton, New York, where her parents live.

Her uncle, she said, threw her into the boat but did not attempt to get in himself. His fate is uncertain.

VERDICT DOUBTFUL IN SULZER TRIAL

Some of the Judges Puzzled Over Technical Questions Submitted to Them.

Albany, N.Y., Oct. 15—Guessing on when a verdict will be reached in the guilt or innocence of Governor Sulzer is about as uncertain a thing as can be done now.

Yesterday the high court of impeachment resumed deliberations in executive session on the question of whether to admit the testimony of Duncan W. Peck and Harry L. Morgenthau, as proof of article IV., of the impeachment charges, or to ask the assembly for another article covering the offences alleged in the testimony.

It is doubtful, however, if much could be told about the possibility of reaching a verdict even if the sessions were open. Some of the judges said they were as puzzled over the technical problem with which the court is now wrestling as a body of laymen.

ARREST ANOTHER MILITANT.

London, Oct. 15.—The cabinet met yesterday morning. Inside the cordon of police who guarded Downing street against suffragettes one woman was arrested.

Lloyd George's Speech on Land Question Amplified

Wages of Agricultural Laborers Insufficient to Support Normal Family in State of Physical Efficiency—120,000 Cottages Required for Rural Population.

London, Oct. 15.—The government committee, which has been enquiring secretly into the land question in England, has published a report which somewhat amplifies Lloyd George's Bedford speech.

The report, however, is discounted in unionist quarters on allegations that the members of the investigating committee were not impartial, while religious and political prejudice is considered to have influenced the replies to some of the questions which only experts could answer. Another criticism is that there is no indication of the qualifications of the persons who have made the reports to the commissioners.

The volume report now issued deals only with the rural districts, and it records that, generally, the agricultural laborers' wages are not sufficient to support a normal family decently, and maintain it in a state of physical efficiency.

A minimum wage should be adjusted, while at the same time there should be an adjustment of rents by a land court, to enable the farmers to meet the increase they would have to pay in wages.

Stress is laid on the shortage of cottage accommodation and the prevalence of cottages which are unfit for human habitation. This, it is pointed out, causes not only overcrowding but immorality, depopulation besides facilitating the spread of disease.

One hundred and twenty thousand cottages are said to be immediately needed to meet the demands of the rural population, and it is urged that it ought to be the statutory duty of the rural district councils to provide proper cottage accommodations for every permanently employed person.

It is also recommended that powers should be given the local government authorities for the compulsory acquisition of the land necessary to carry out the commission's recommendations.

There is, it says further, "a deplorable land hunger," and the fact that this has not been satisfied is attributed to the apathy of the county councils, to the hostility of the farmers, and to the excessive prices.

Steps are proposed to increase the number of small holdings by state aided purchases, by farmer-tenancy under the state and by more complete fixity of tenure.

In the remedies proposed to deal with under-cultivation land owners see an attempt being made to prevent the landlords from imposing any new taxation, and when that measure is secured, landlords look for legislation aimed to tax them out of existence and automatically nationalize the land.

The Voice of the People Not Heard by City Council

Request for Plebiscite on Renumbering is Turned Down—New System Again Endorsed—Notice of Motion Given to Reopen the Question at Next Council Meeting.

Another chapter was added to the renumbering mix-up last night when the request of an almost unanimous body of citizens for a plebiscite was turned down by the casting vote of the mayor at the council meeting.

Following the reading of a report of a recent public meeting submitted by the chairman, W. H. Clegg, Alderman East moved that the wish of the people be granted and a plebiscite taken.

An amendment was moved by Alderman Livingstone to the effect that the system be again endorsed by the council and the city solicitor instructed to take all necessary action in moving to have the injunction dissolved. Aldermen Lundy, May, Driscoll and East voted in favor of the motion and against the amendment. Aldermen Smith, Calder, Walsh and Livingstone voted in favor of the amendment and against the motion. The mayor then declared the amendment carried.

Following the defeat of his motion, Alderman East gave notice that he intended moving at the next regular meeting of council that the matter of a plebiscite be re-opened. The effect of this notice of motion will be that the work cannot be proceeded with.

In supporting his attitude on this question Alderman Livingstone said that already about $4,000 had been spent on the work and it is about 80 per cent complete. The new system, he said, had been passed in July by the council and if a meeting had been called he ventured to say that very few would have attended it. The mayor at this point stated that such a meeting had been called but nobody turned up to it. Alderman Livingstone said further that he would stand by his decision and see it through, then the people had the matter in their own hands and could act accordingly.

We can't overlook the voice of the people in this fashion, said Alderman May. They have expressed the opinion that a plebiscite should be taken and we should not stand in opposition.

Alderman Lundy said that he was more convinced than ever that while the new system is good in parts it will be absolutely impossible to carry it out in its entirety. We must adopt a system that will get the best results, he continued, and in the city there are a great many streets where the old names should be retained for other than sentimental reasons. He concluded by stating that he was absolutely convinced that a great majority of the 70,000 people in the city are not in favor of the new system.

The portion of Mr. Clegg's report dealing with the resolutions passed at the public meeting reads as follows:

1. A resolution by Mr. Lauriance, resolved that the street numbering should be suspended until endorsed by plebicite.

2. Amendment by Mr. Stephens, that this mass meeting of citizens of Edmonton, assembled this sixth day of October, concur in the action of the council in the system of re-naming of streets and avenues and re-numbering of houses, and that the work proceed as rapidly as possible as soon as injunction of court is removed.

3. Resolution by Mr. Stuart, in the opinion of this meeting that some scheme be devised whereby smaller numbers should prevail especially in the centre of the city.

The amendment being put was lost.

The original motion was unanimously endorsed by standing vote with possibly two or three exceptions.

Mr. Stuarts resolution was also carried almost unanimously.

Shall City Explore for Gas or Accept Tenders from Bidders

Question to be Debated at Special Council Meeting to be Held on Thursday Evening—Public Meetings for Discussion of Subject and a Plebiscite to be Taken.

"Whereas this council now having a full report on the gas question, from the experts engaged, resolve the following:

"That a plebiscite be taken of the burgesses, to decide,

"Whether this city shall undertake the exploration of the likely ever anticlines as outlined in the experts' report, with a view to the furnishing of natural gas, as a municipal undertaking. Alternative: Authorizing the city council to enter into an agreement with the successful responsible tender to be decided on at the special meeting to be held Thursday, at 2.30.

"And, that the date of the plebiscite be decided at the aforesaid special meeting.

"And, that public meetings be called to discuss this important question."

The above is the text of a motion submitted to the council last night and carried by a majority vote. Aldermen East, May and Driscoll were opposed to the motion and voted in favor of an amendment submitted by Alderman East that the matter be laid on the table. Aldermen Smith, Lundy, Walsh and Calder supported the motion.

The motion was introduced following the reading of a letter from J. B. Hablen, who is the owner of a quarter section in the vicinity of the Vegreville well, and who offered free of charge to the city the right to bore for oil or gas on his property. Alderman East rose to a point of order and stated that this motion is out of order, as there is already a motion for a plebiscite on the gas question now on the table.

The mayor ruled that since a later report on the gas question is now in the hands of the council, the motion made by Alderman Livingstone is in order.

The mayor also advised the council that, acting on their instructions, the commissioners had communicated with the Dominion government asking for reservations of gas rights in the Vegreville field. He stated that a communication had been received from Hon. W. J. Roche assuring the city that such rights would be safeguarded for the city as requested.

Alderman East said the mover of the motion that he had opposed the taking of a plebiscite earlier in the season on.

Alderman Livingstone replied that he had good reasons for so doing, as at that time the council had no very definite information at their disposal, whereas now a full report is to hand which costs the city $4,000. "Why don't you say I'm in favor of Pelican gas and be done with it," retorted Ald. Livingstone, evidently a little hurt by the pungent remarks of his colleague.

The bill from Messrs. Clapp & Huntley for $4,000 was sent up to the council by the city commissioners, and on motion of Alderman Walsh it was laid on the table until something more is known about the report itself. Alderman East moved an amendment that the account be paid, but the amendment was declared lost.

Alderman Walsh said that the report contained much outside information, and until he had further opportunity of studying it, he would not favor paying the money.

At the special meeting on Thursday afternoon the council will be ready to hear from any who may have information or suggestions bearing on the gas situation.

PLATFORMS BESIDE RAILWAY TRACKS

Passengers on City System Will Be Provided With Havens of Safety.

That the congested condition of the street corners at First and Jasper may be relieved, a motion was carried last night in the city council authorizing the construction of a platform alongside the car tracks. On this platform the citizens will gather while awaiting the cars they wish to take. If the experiment works out well and relieves the situation to any marked degree, additional platforms will be placed at other points on the system.

Another motion passed is that the city solicitor be instructed to bring down a by-law making it compulsory for all automobilists to stop dead on approaching a street car which is not in motion. Had this rule been in force it was argued that the recent accident at Namayo avenue might have been averted.

Alderman Lundy called the attention of the council to the lack of a clause in the by-law prohibiting street traffic from breaking through a funeral procession. This he considered to be very serious, and a motion passed authorizing an amendment to be drafted.

CHIEF OF POLICE EXECUTED.

London, Oct. 15.—A Peking despatch to the Daily Telegraph says Chen, chief of the Peking mounted police, was executed Monday. He was arrested on October 10, during the enactment of the assassinate Yuan Shai kai as president of the republic. He confessed that Yuan rebels had bribed him to make an attempt to assassinate Yuan Shai kai, as the president was taking the oath of office. Precautions for the protection of Shi kai have been redoubled.

ST. ALBERT MEN MEET THE COUNCIL

Ask City to Allow Interurban Railway to Build the Connecting Link.

COMMITTEE WILL BRING IN REPORT

St. Albert Member Addresses the Council and Suggests Charter Amendments or a Government If Necessary to Effect an Agreement.

After hearing what a number of citizens of St. Albert had to say in favor of the joining up of the Interurban line with the city's system, the council last night decided to refer the whole agreement back to the public works committee. Chairman Lundy then announced that a meeting of the committee would be held Wednesday morning at 10 o'clock at which any interested parties would have opportunity to present their views.

Aldermen Driscoll, May and Lundy were in favor of the matter being dealt with by the council in committee of the whole and an amendment to this effect was put and declared lost.

Mr. Boudreau, the member for St. Albert, was present last night and in a short address he pointed out to the council the benefit the citizens of Edmonton would derive from this new line. If the company is unreasonable, and the city cannot enter into a proper agreement, he suggested that an amendment might be sought to the charter which would make it imperative for them to sign up such an agreement, or a committee might be named by the government to settle the dispute.

The council of the board of trade held a meeting yesterday and in a letter to the council they endorse the movement and urge on the council the advisability of making some kind of settlement.

Mr. Vanasse, of St. Albert, also addressed the council. The new Interurban line, he said, would mean much to Edmonton as well as being a great benefit to St. Albert and adjoining points. Last Sunday the receipts of the company were over $200, but Mr. Vanasse contended that the city was very unreasonable in asking the company to build about two miles of permanent track and thought that the company had made a very fair offer when they undertake to put down temporary track. He stated that it would be good business all around and in the name of the people of St. Albert he asked the council to grant the prayers of the 70 odd petitioners who want this gap closed.

Alderman Livingstone explained to the delegation that the company had not acted in good faith in the matter of the proposed agreement. They had repeatedly told the committee, he said, that if the agreement did not suit they would come in over the G. T. P. tracks, and therefore, as far as he was concerned, the question was abandoned until now.

Alderman Smith also informed the council that as a member of the public works committee he, too, had the impression that the company was not very keen on reaching an agreement with the city.

At this point Mr. Wallbridge, the representative of the company, appeared on the scene and took exception to the statements of Alderman Smith. He said that the company was anxious to meet the city, but not on such terms as being asked to build two miles of permanent track work at a cost of about $10,000 a mile within the city limits and then turn it over to the city. This proposition was so absurd that the company could not possibly consider it, said Mr. Wallbridge.

The company took the view that the road would mean so much to property owners that they could well afford to pay for the cost of the connecting link and then turn it over to the city to operate. The question will be again taken up by the public works committee and another attempt made to reach some satisfactory terms. In addition to the construction of the piece of road there are other points which will be somewhat difficult to adjust, such as rates, operating costs, handling of freight and passengers and many other such items.

NEW OCEAN FREIGHT POOL.

London, Oct. 15—It is believed in Berlin that the increase of capital of the Hamburg-American line is due to the dispute with the North German Lloyd and the breakup of the Atlantic shipping pool. It is reported that negotiations for a new freight pool will be undertaken in Berlin, and for a new passenger pool in November.

HIGH TAXES IN SASKATOON.

Saskatoon, Sask., Oct. 15.—The total general taxes which will be collected on land, buildings and business inside the city limits this year will amount to $1,914,652.20 and, in the form of it is a jump of almost 35 per cent. over the total last year of $663,222.64. This does not include local improvement taxes or arrears.

That Played-Out Feeling Was Quickly Remedied and Health Restored.

Story of a Merchant Who Almost Lost His Business and His Health Through Neglecting Early Symptoms of Disease.

"My life for years has been of sedentary character," writes T. B. Titchfield, head of a well known Dam in Buckingham. "Nine hours every day I spent at office work and took exercise only on Sunday. I disregarded the symptoms of ill-health, which were all too apparent to my family. I grew thin, then pale, and before long I was jaundiced—eyes and skin were yellow, my appetite and nerve energy were lowered, and I was quite unfitted for business. In the morning a lightness in the head, particularly when I bent over, made me very worried about my health. Most of the laxative medicines I found weakening, and knowing that I had to be at business every day I neglected myself rather than risk further weakness. Of course, I grew worse, but by a happy chance I began to use Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I was forcibly struck by the fact that they neither caused griping nor nausea, and it seemed incredible that pills could tone, cleanse and regulate the system without causing any unpleasant after effects. Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted with me just as gentle as nature—they gave new life to my liver, strengthened my stomach, and won me back to perfect good health. My skin is clear, dizziness has disappeared, and my appetite, strength, spirits are perfect."

Refuse anything offered you instead of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, which are sure to cure. Sold in 25c. boxes, five for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

PARSONS SUPREME AT POWER HOUSE

POWER AND LIGHT MAY BE REDUCED

Commissioners Are Instructed to Prepare Plans for Necessary Additions to Power House for the 1914 Load—Tenders Will Be Called for.

The proposed scheme to put the power house under control and direction of the electric light department died an unnatural and unlooked for death last night when the specially appointed committee consisting of Aldermen Smith, Livingstone and Calder brought in a report in which they definitely state that they are not in favor of the scheme.

The question of rates should be taken up further and some more satisfactory method arrived at as between the electric light and the street railway department, and the committee has recommended to the council that Messrs. Ormsby, Parsons and Woodroofe get together and bring in a report for the next meeting of the council. The report of this specially appointed committee which was adopted by the council last night reads thus:

Your committee having met, beg leave to report:

(1) That they are not in favor of combining the two departments under one superintendent at the present time owing to the way in which the pumping plant and power plant are so intimately related.

(2) Having gone very carefully into the question of the rates at present being charged the street railway department and electric light department by the power house department, we believe that a better arrangement ought to be entered into with these two departments, and we would recommend that a committee consisting of Messrs. Ormsby, Parsons and Woodroofe be appointed to go into the whole question of rates, and report to the council at its next session.

And your committee beg leave to sit again.

This decision was arrived at only after very specific evidence had been solicited from the various superintendents and others interested. It vindicates the stand taken by superintendent Parsons who, in the opinion of the committee, is the right man at the head of the power house.

Following the approval of this report, Alderman Lundy brought in a motion which was duly seconded and passed unanimously by the council in which the city commissioners are instructed to have prepared at once complete plans, charts, specifications, etc., for the further extensions necessary to the power house that a continuous supply of power may be available for the demands of the city during the fall of 1914. Alderman Lundy proved conclusively that unless this step is taken the city would be absolutely impossible to get the machinery delivered in time. He called attention to the fact that the superintendent had recommended this step being taken under date of April 22nd, last, and that his recommendations had been repeated on several later dates, but same had been referred to commissioners and finally laid on the table. The motion also embodies a clause that as soon as the plans are prepared tenders will be called for in accordance therewith.

HIGH TAXES VEX CITY ALDERMEN

Solons Squirm Under Special Assessments—Solicitor Will Prepare Solacing Statement.

"Special assessments" was the topic which reached down and touched the purse strings of several members of the council last night. After hearing a letter from F. F. Tupper, in which he claimed a rebate in taxes, someone suggested that there is something radically wrong with the assessment this year.

Alderman Driscoll broke in at this point: "I want to know," said he, "if it is the intention of the council to collect taxes for work not done this year?"

"It's the first I have heard of it," said the mayor.

"I got it in the neck too," volunteered the city solicitor, "but I don't see how it can be avoided. The debentures have been sold and the interest and sinking fund must be provided from some source."

"I agree with Alderman Driscoll," said the mayor, "but if the solicitor says that we must pay them, why it can't be avoided, that's all."

"The taxes are excessive in the extreme," said Alderman Walsh. "In some instance property that was assessed last year for about $5 is paying about $100 this year."

Finally a motion was passed asking the city solicitor and the assessor to prepare a statement that will make clear the apparent discrepencies now in existence.

FOOD INSPECTOR CANNOT ENFORCE BREAD BY-LAW

Unworkable Because it Does Not Provide for Proper Wrapping of Fancy Bread.

Food Inspector C. W. J. Haworth cannot enforce the new bread by-law because it does not provide for the proper wrapping of fancy breads. Dr. Whitelaw submitted to council a letter from the food inspector dealing with this matter. It was read at council and then laid on the table for a week. The report reads:

"I have read the new bread by-law that, as it stands at present, it is next to impossible to enforce it. The fancy bread not requiring to be wrapped leaves a loophole for the bakers, which two of them are taking advantage of.

"Sub-section 2 of clause 6 does not require the 21-ounce loaves to be wrapped. Bread going over this weight, but not coming up to the weight required for standard bread, viz., 24 ounces, the baker pleads that it is fancy bread, and before we can get a conviction we have to prove by analysis that this bread is not fancy bread, causing an unnecessary expense and delay.

"I would strongly urge upon the council the necessity for an amendment to said sub-section 2 of clause 6 of by-law No. 443, compelling the wrapping of all fancy bread, said wrapper to have printed on it, in legible letters, the name of the maker, month of the loaf, and its weight. By adding this to our present by-law it will make it practicable to carry it out effectively. I might state, further, that one of the bakers is now wrapping his fancy bread has asked particularly that this amendment be made. He realizes the next to impossible to enforce that an officer is up against in trying to enforce it as it stands at present."

COUNCIL NOTES.

Cemetery Commission Appointed—

A new cemetery commission was named last night by the city council. The names selected for this board are: Messrs. D. J. F. Kirkpatrick, A. W. Ormsby, Alexander Taylor, north side; ex-Alderman O. Bush and A. Bulbert, south side. The public works committee brought in the recommendation, and also one to the effect that the new block in cBechmount be fenced this fall.

"Burying people in manufacturing sites is a new one on me," said Alderman Driscoll, who is opposed to the new site.

The new commission will have jurisdiction over the cemeteries owned by the city, unless, at some later date, it will be possible to merge the private cemeteries into public ones, when they can be taken over by the new board.

Would Sell the City Subway Property—

Peter Lawson appeared before council last night asking the city to take over his property in the Jasper avenue subway at the foot of the hill. He also said that he would accept debentures in payment of same. The matter was referred to the public works committee.

Turn-out Endorsed—

The public works committee reported that the action taken by the commissioners with regard to the turnout at the corner of Sutherland and First street was correct and submitted a long letter from Superintendent Woodroofe in which he proved conclusively that it was good business to omit the other specials until they are really required by the department.

Gates on First Street—

In future gates will be placed on both sides of the railway tracks at First street, Namayo avenue, Syndicate avenue and Whyte avenue. A watchman will be stationed at these points until such time as subways have been constructed. The commissioners have been asked to bring in a report on the question of signs at all crossings and also the lighting at night. It is said that some of the crossings are entirely dark at night, and have no protection for the public whatever.

Agreement Not eYt Satisfactory—

The new agreement to be entered into by the city and the G.T.P. relative to the changing of the company's tracks from the south side to the north side of McKenzie avenue and from First to Sixteenth streets was read to the council last night. It is not yet in accordance with the views of all the members and after some further discussion a special committee, consisting of the board of works, solicitor and Aldermen Smith and Lundy, was appointed to bring the matter before the board of railway commissioners at Edmonton on October 31 next. It will be the duty of this committee to see that spur tracks are authorized to serve blocks 5 and 6, and that spurs will be built within a reasonable time after the sitting of the commissioners.

Tuberculosis Delegates—

Alderman Smith and Dr. Whitelaw have been appointed by the city council to attend the convention of the Canadian association for the prevention of tuberculosis, to be held in Calgary on Wednesday, Oct. 22. At this convention a provincial board of management will be appointed and also plans considered for the new hospital to be erected on the site donated by the dominion government between Radnor and Mitford, on the main line of the C.P.R.

Poultry Association Gets $400—

In accordance with the custom of former years the council granted to the Edmonton Poultry and Pet Stock association the sum of $400 to start the list for this season's prizes. The members of council were agreed that the association should be encouraged at least to this extent. The eleventh annual show will be held from December 2 to 5 this year.

Plumbers' License Fee—

A delegation of five members from the plumbers' association was present at the council last night to ask for an amendment to the bylaw which fixes the license fee at $5 each. This they contended is much too high and should only be about $2. They were told that the matter has been referred in accordance with their wishes and therefore it would not be changed now.

Will be Completed January 1—

Although it is expected that the new G.T.P. Hotel Macdonald will be completed and ready for guests on June 1, 1914, it, Hansard, the solicitor for the company, was granted an extension of time until the end of next year. This has been done that provision may be made for any emergency or delays which may delay the work. Mr. Hansard told the council that the building will be all closed in and ready for the plaster about December 1. It is hoped that the interior of the building will be finished about the middle of May next. The interior fittings and furnishings will be supplied by Tiffany and company, New York.

Street Railway Employes Figure the Cost of Living

Conclude That it Takes $1,536.53 to Keep a Family of Five Persons One Year—Motormen and Conductors Get $1,100 Yearly, Exclusive of Overtime, After Two Years of Service.

The committee of eight appointed by the local street railway men to adjust the new agreement with the superintendent and the commissioners has prepared very carefully a statement showing the cost of living in Edmonton. The figures are based on a family of five—father, mother, and three children—and show that the sum total for all the necessities of life for a period of one year is $1,536.53.

The committee spent over a week in compiling these figures, the method adopted being to first get prices from every section of the city, including south side, Highlands, West End and North Edmonton. When these figures had been obtained, the committee then proceeded to strike an average, having in view all the circumstances connected with or bearing on the case. If the figures are a fair estimate of the cost of living in Edmonton, then the men must either make up in overtime from $100 to $500 a year, or go behind; that is, if they are married men and have three children in the family. According to the present table of wages, the new men are paid on the basis of about $700 a year for the first six months, the second six months they receive wages at the rate of $825 a year. During the second year of service they are paid about $960, and during the third year the pay is raised to $1100 a year. These figures are based on the present scale of wages per hour, 27 1-2, 30, 35 and 37 1-2, in accordance with the length of service rendered.

It must be remembered that this is straight time, and does not include any overtime. The superintendent states that the highest paid men are drawing between $90 and $100 monthly, but still this does not bring the wages up to a point where the men can live on the basis set forth in the list of necessities prepared by the men.

ALBERTA MEDICAL FREEDOM LEAGUE

Organization Formed at Calgary to Resist Enforcement of Compulsory Vaccination.

Calgary, Oct. 15—For the purpose of resisting any attempts that may be made to impose compulsory vaccination on either children or adults and to impose "the granting of a monopoly of healing practice to any system or systems of healing," the Alberta Medical Freedom League has just been formed in this city with branches in all the principal centres of Alberta.

The league is the outgrowth of the anti-vaccination organization, which was formed at a meeting held in this city last spring shortly after there had been agitation in connection with the vaccination of school children.

The Officers

The officers of the association, who are prominent citizens of Calgary, are as follows:

President, W. J. Walker; first vice-president, Dr. M. E. Church; secretary, A. H. Meller; treasurer, W. G. Ferguson, A. R. Stowell is chairman of the membership committee. There are no membership fees required and contributions are entirely voluntary.

The league takes the stand that no branch of the medical profession should be given a monopoly of healing practice. It is unalterably opposed to vaccination, and strenuously objects to the state introducing compulsory vaccination among school children or other classes of the community. "We oppose the establishment of state medicine as we would oppose the establishment of state religion," is their slogan.

Objects to League

Following is a complete list of the tenets of this organization, which promises to make itself felt in the community before long:

1. We oppose the granting of a monopoly of healing practice to any system or systems of healing.

2. We oppose compulsory vaccination under any and all circumstances.

3. We oppose any attempt to take from us our inalienable right to employ in the hour of illness the practitioner or healer of our choice.

4. We oppose the establishment of state medicine, as we would oppose the establishment of state religion.

5. While in favor of sanitation and cleanliness in the highest degree, we oppose the attempted use of these general principles as a cloak for compulsory medical treatment.

6. We oppose discrimination in favor of any school of healing in selection of Dominion, Provincial or municipal officers charged with the administration of sanitary quarantine or other health regulations.

7. We oppose the use of public funds, public schools, or other public institutions for the dissemination of literature, the advertising of theories, or the furtherance of the propaganda of any particular system of healing.

8. We oppose the infringement, by threatened extension of dominion bureaucratic power, of the right of a province or municipality to regulate and control its own health affairs.

9. We propose to prosecute a campaign of education and publicity not only to arrest any further encroachment upon our right to select the practitioner of our choice in the hour of illness, but also to regain the rights that have been taken from us, and to establish for ever the principle of medical freedom.

HYDRO-ELECTRIC FOR THE FARMER

Fifty-two Ontario Agriculturists in One Country Utilize the Juice.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—There was a meeting recently between Hon. James Duff, minister of agriculture, and "Beck's hired man" on the fertile acres of Oxford farms. Mr. Duff accompanied Hon. Adam Beck and a deputation of 20 from Lambton county to seven farms, some near Ingersoll, employing Hydro power in house, field, and barn.

The farmer's wife did her ironing and the farmer did his threshing, his silo-filling, his rail-cutting, etc., by pressing a button so to speak.

Relics of the power age of yesterday were to be seen, reminders of a departed glory. A 20-horsepower gas engine was a discard on one farm. A 3-horse treader had been rejected on another. A bull-treader had outlived its usefulness on a third. A traction emcine was discussable on a fourth.

Beck's "hired man," once known as "Beck's circus," and now known as the "Hydro-Electric on the farm," has displaced them all. Even the cows were milked by the silent force from mighty Niagara.

Fifty-two farms in Oxford will be using Hydro by December, and Elgin, as well, has made the plunge.

Not only is the Hydro-Electric transmission line being doubled between Dundas and London, but this coming spring will see a duplicate system right through to Windsor.

THE PREMIER'S NOTE OF CONFIDENCE AND OPTIMISM.

The specific corroboration of the claim of the Alberta government that it is carrying out its pledges to the electors of this province was never better set out than in the budget speech delivered by Premier Sifton in the legislature Monday afternoon. In it there is a note of optimism, progressiveness and confidence which should set at rest any alarms which may have been raised in the minds of any sufficiently timorous to take seriously the blue ruin preachments of the conservatives.

In 1902, says the premier, the expenditures of the two provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, then the North West Territories, totalled $637,000. In 1914, as the estimates show, the revenue of the province of Alberta alone, one half that area which was the North West Territories a decade ago, will total $272,175.

A country's growth, like that of a human being or a tree, is something which must be noted by periods to be appreciated. Watching it day by day, the processes merge so that the effect is lost and those closest realize least the steady expansion. But figures such as those quoted by the premier illustrate the fact that Alberta is growing more rapidly than any other country on earth. In this province we have come a long way in the past 10 or 12 years, and to keep pace with the growth since autonomy the Alberta government has required to spend a lot of money; but, as the premier makes plain, it is spending this money with cheerful confidence, and it intends to spend more. To serve the needs of the country it must spend money. Eight million dollars are represented in the capital invested in behalf of the public in the telephone alone. It is a large amount of money, but the government sees nothing in this total to cause alarm. On the contrary, it is indicative of the growth of the country which justifies such expenditures. The system is paying its way. Its receips for next year are estimated at a round million. The system is serving the people of the province as the people of no other similar country in the world are served. And the government includes in the estimates an appropriation of another million to be expended upon capital account next year, to extend the telephone to those who have not yet been able to enjoy the advantage of its use.

The government's railway policy, adopted upon the premise that it was the duty of the government to guarantee adequate transportation to those who have gone beyond the beaten path to make homes for themselves, finds its justification in the fact that the railway mileage, which at the commencement of the current year was 1,500 miles, will at the close of the year —notwithstanding a stringency amounting almost to a panic in the money markets—be two thousand miles, if not more. This is the policy, says the premier, which the government proposes to pursue. It has cost the province not one dollar. It has secured the construction of railways costing from two to three times the amounts of the guarantees, and it promises for the year 1914 an activity in railway building which will be greater even than anything in the past.

The government made certain pledges to the agriculturalists; that it would assist in the establishment of co-operative elevators such as would protect them for all time from the workings of the grain monopoly. In the estimates there is the government's corroboration of this pledge. Fifty of the elevators are already an actual, busy, commercial fact. Three hundred thousand dollars has been set aside to guarantee the construction of many more.

"There has been no difference of opinion," says the premier, "as to the necessity of absolute equality as the one guarantee on which the confederation of the Dominion of Canada can be made a permanent success." Here, in a phrase, is the crux of the question of the natural resources, and the guarantee that the Alberta government will not relinquish its claim that it be given equal justice with the other provinces in the matter of provincial control. This is the government's policy, expressed in a manner which leaves no room for doubt as to its stand.

"It is admitted from one end of the Dominion to the other that the legislation introduced and carried into effect by this government during these seven years in regard to the laboring classes has been an example to the other provinces of the dominion and to many states of the United States of America." To which the premier adds: "The result has been a better satisfied community than in any other province." If, contemplating the industrial peace which has prevailed in this province too many, many months, with the feeling of evident confidence upon the part of the labor forces in Alberta that the legislation so far enacted is to be followed with further enactments of progressiveness, the opposition does not wince when it contrasts this condition in Alberta with the riot and anarchy which has been precipitated by the Russianisms of McBride and Bowser on Vancouver Island, it will be because they are less susceptible to the effect of public opinion than even their chronic position as the minority would indicate. It is not claimed that Alberta has reached the ideal in labor conditions by any means, but the government of Alberta has gone farther than any other government of any province in the dominion has yet had the daring to venture; and that the results have been profitable to the province is easily proven by the fact of industrial peace.

And by no means the least important statement contained in the speech is the premier's declaration that he proposes to go to the convention of premiers prepared to fight the eastern heresy which would give the maritime provinces greater representation in the federal parliament than is given the west. The British North America act must be carried out in its entirety, is the premier's stand. The basic unit of representation must be observed. There must be no amendment such as would, by placing an irreducible minimum upon their representation, make a vote in the Maritime provinces or in Ontario more effective than a vote in Alberta. The west must have full representation at Ottawa.

The premier's budget speech is worthy of perusal by every Albertan, no matter what his politics and no matter how passive his interest in public affairs.

THE ONLY INTERPRETATION TO THE COUNCIL'S ACTION

Notwithstanding the protest recorded by the meeting held in the Empire auditorium a week ago Monday, probably the largest gathering of ratepayers ever assembled in the city to discuss a public question, the city council, by a vote of four to four, which became a majority through the mayor's casting vote, has decided that it will not submit the street numbering to a plebiscite, but will attempt to have the injunction dissolved and, if such can be done, will proceed with the re-numbering in spite of the protest.

This attitude upon the part of the four members of the council and the mayor admits of only one interpretation, which is that they are afraid to submit their actions to the test of popular approval.

The fundamental principle of the system under which the city of Edmonton is governed provides that the mayor and all the aldermen hold office merely as representatives, and as such they are expected to give effect to the wishes and desires of the majority of the citizens. If any action by the mayor and aldermen does not meet with the approval of the majority of the ratepayers, the mayor and aldermen have no moral right to persist in such action, even though the aldermanic body be unanimous. Elected to do what the citizens want them to do, the council has no carte blanche to do what the citizens do not want them to do.

In the present instance the council's action is as though the bare majority of members present at any meeting had been given an indefeasible proxy to do as it chose in any public matter, regardless of whether the action which this bare majority arrogates to itself meets the endorsation of the electors or not.

Whether or not the street numbering scheme meets with popular approval can only be determined by submitting it to a popular vote. When the bare majority, in the face of the demand of such a large gathering of ratepayers, refuses to submit the street numbering scheme to a plebiscite, the only conclusion left open is that the bare majority does not wish to be representative, and fears that the effect of the plebiscite would be to take out of their hands the power to do that which they know the electors whom they are alleged to represent do not want them to do.

TWEEDIE DANCES ON CORPSE OF LATE RETURNING OFFICER

Corpse Never Moves, However, and Member for Centre Calgary is the Whole Show—Routine Business Transacted.

During the progress of yesterday's session of the legislature the honorable member for Centre, Calgary, Mr. Tweedie, danced the lean dance on the official corpse of the late returning officer for the constituency of Clearwater. The corpse never moved. It wasn't there to move. Mr. Tweedie was the whole show—that is, he was until Premier Sifton showed him where to hand in. Knowing full well that a protest was pending, that the protest had been filed by the two candidates, Mr. Tweedie, the premier, and Chairman Mr. Taylor would suggest that the election documents be kept forbidden, Mr. Tweedie took advantage of his position to denounce the action of the returning officer as "rotten, corrupted", a flouting of the law, a disgrace to the province, a display of unadulterated ignorance, etc.

Mr. Tweedie first mentioned the opposition objection to the creation of the Clearwater constituency. The people of Alberta were not entitled to have a ruling for themselves. They were not sufficiently numerous. However, inasmuch as the government had seen fit to give them representation, they should have shown their appreciation by electing Mr. Williamson. Taylor, which, Mr. Tweedie proceeded to do in proper mathematical style. Quoting from what purported to be the official return of the returning officer, he showed that the official in question was very weak on addition, could not add two and two, in fact. Continuing, Mr. Tweedie reviewed the action of the court of revision in Clearwater, and showed that Mr. Taylor should have been elected, whereas Mr. Taylor learned from the private gallery and Mr. McKenney shook from his seat. Mr. Tweedie showed partiality in not mentioning the noble red men of Clearwater, and he was also silent on the subject of firewater.

Premier Sifton reminded his hearers that the courts had always been in the habit of dealing with matters of this kind. The reason why such issues had been left to the courts was made plain by the tenor of Mr. Tweedie's speech, which reeked of partisanship. It was evident that if Mr. Tweedie had been returning officer in Clearwater Mr. McKenney would not have been elected. The members of the house could not judge of the question on its merits when they had nothing but exparte evidence to consider. The returning officer had been in the constituency for months after the election and apparently nothing was done to bring him to task for his failure to add correctly. He might have been guilty of stupidity, but not of criminality. If all the stupid people were put in jail, as Mr. Tweedie had suggested, the jails would be filled to overflowing. Nor was it right to send bail adhere to prison. There was plenty of room in the provincial jails for those who violated the law, but they could not be jailed in advance of their conviction. The courts would pass upon the Clearwater case in orthodox manner and justice would be done.

Routine Business.

While the premier's budget speech and the addresses on the Clearwater cases took up considerable time in the house yesterday, several bills were advanced. The amendments to the school ordinance, the threshers' lien law, the act respecting magistrates, constables and justices of the peace, the corporations' taxation act and the statute law amendments, were read a second time.

In committee of the whole were considered and reported the following bills:

No. 20, an act to restrain dangerous or mischievous animals.

No. 4, concerning the Business Improvement Co.

No. 20, to incorporate the village of Wainwright Beach.

No. 2, to incorporate the Greek-Canadian club.

The passage through committee of the whole of the bill to incorporate the Greek-Canadian club may be taken as an indication that all of the many club bills before that committee will pass in the form in which they were reported by the committee on private bills.

Committee Work.

The committee on public accounts will meet at 10 o'clock on Thursday morning.

Owners of alleged agricultural lands based as city property within the boundaries of incorporated cities, agreed upon a uniform amendment which the municipal committee attached to the bill. Those who maintain that these lands should be taxed as city property did not agree to this amendment, but was the amendment submitted to the finance committee. The whole matter was left to be threshed out in committee of the whole.

Telephone Information.

Mr. Lemery's motion that an order of the house be issued for a return, showing the agreements and correspondence between the government and all parties from whom the government contracted for or secured telephone poles during 1913, also all agreements and correspondence made by the government for the erection of telephone lines during 1913, was agreed to.

Today's Program.

After the routine business of the Alberta legislature has been disposed of this afternoon, Mr. Tweedie, of Centre Calgary, will continue the debate on the budget, which he adjourned yesterday. Mr. Tweedie was yesterday informed by the premier that the public accounts for 1913 could not be submitted by the legislature in advance of the budget, inasmuch as they could not be closed prior to December 31 of this year.

AMENDMENTS TO CHARTER ADOPTED BY COMMITTEE

Clause Respecting Acquisition of Property Adjoining Railway Crossings Held Up

FIVE THOUSAND CITIZENS OPPOSE CHARTER CHANGES

Discussion Will Probably Be Precipitated on Floor of House and Whole Matter Reopened.

With the exception of section 18, which has to do with the acquiring of property by the city adjoining railway crossings and subways, and those sections dealing with the re-survey of the city, the Edmonton charter amendments were all approved by the house committee of municipal affairs this morning. The only change made was in the section with respect to the widening of streets by taking property without compensation. This section was modified so that injured property owners may obtain relief should the judge or arbitrator so decide. It is possible that there may be some agreement on the amendments in committee of the whole.

The charter amendments were supported by Mayor Short, Hon. C. W. Cross and former Alderman Joseph A. Clarke, and opposed by Mr. J. H. Trebilcock, representing the Norwood property owners, Mr. Bailey Powell, M. A. H. Bullock, manager of the Bank of Ottawa, former Commissioner Candy and Alderman East.

Alderman East Objects.

Alderman East objected to those amendments which gave a bare majority of the council power to dismiss a commissioner. The commissioners, he contended, should not be harassed by the council but should be left free to do their duty as they saw fit. The council was inconsistent in this respect, he declared. If the service of officers of a commissioner were contingent upon the whims of councillmen the city would always be in hot water. It was a blow at true commission form of government.

Mr. A. S. Dickens objected to any change being made in the charter at present. There was a strong sentiment in favor of the commission form of government. This sentiment was rapidly assuming form, and he thought the charter should be left alone until the change was made. The amendments did not represent the wishes of a majority of the people and only represented the view of a majority of the council.

Workmen Petition Presented.

Mr. J. H. Trebilc presented a largely signed petition protesting against the amendments. This petition was drawn up at a representative meeting of citizens held in Norwood, and Mr. Trebilcock stated that 5,000 additional signatures could easily be obtained if time permitted.

Mr. Bailey Powell strongly objected to the amendments. He said the aim should be for the betterment of civic government. A movement was now on foot for this purpose and the charter should not be changed. Present conditions were unsatisfactory and would continue to be so as long as the present form of civic government was adhered to. He said that the minister of finance in Ottawa had informed him by letter that the confiscation of property for the purpose of widening streets and with no compensation thereto, was absolutely illegal and would be set aside by the department of justice. This statement seemed to startle the members of the committee who expressed a desire to see the letter from the minister.

Retail in Commission System.

Former Commissioner Candy, who should be thoroughly conversant with municipal conditions, said the amendments would be fatal to the commission form of government. It would be wrong to permit a bare majority of the council to dismiss a commissioner. If this were allowed, the office of commissioner would be so insecure that good men would not be obtained. Nor was it right for the council to hamper and interfere with the work of the commissioners and then hold them responsible for results.

Mayor Short said the amendments were passed by the council at a regular meeting. As sponsor for the city charter he felt in duty bound to support the amendments. Three times since the chairman was passed the city had found the affairs in chaotic condition as a result of the very things Mayor McDougall and the council had sought to avert when they sought relief from the legislature. Mayor Armstrong was in almost the identical position of the present council and confronted with conditions of which he was ashamed. The commissioners had attempted to themselves the right to run the affairs of the city without so much as by your leave. They took matters in their own hands and spent money right and left without the authority of the representatives of the people and without regard to public interest. One commissioner in particular had imposed a heavy financial obligation upon the city and the council was powerless to bring him to task. The commissioners were able to block public business and the council could not dismiss those commissioners who merited dismissal. The majority should rule and it was idle to argue that the majority was not behind the proposed amendments.

Alderman East said that the commissioner in question had presented to the council a letter fully justifying his action and the council did not have the nerve to take it up.

Commissioners Ignore Council.

Former Alderman Joseph A. Clarke said that during his term of office as alderman the commissioners persistently ignored the council even to the extent of not attending meetings. They ruled matters with a high hand. He supported Mayor Short's contention that a commissioner might be dismissed by majority vote of the council.

Hon. C. W. Cross declared that it had always been his belief that a two-thirds vote should not be necessary to discharge a commissioner. Public business could not be transacted in a proper manner if authority were withheld from the representatives of the people. Commissioners should not be allowed to disregard the wishes of the council. The members of the council were the representatives of the people and accountable to the people and the commissioners should be amenable to them.

The clauses bearing upon the control of the commissioners were agreed to unanimously.

There was some discussion over the clause with reference to the widening of streets by the taking of property without compensation to the owners, except for improvements. Mayor Spencer of Medicine Hat thought the clause was too strong and Mayor Short of Edmonton agreed that it was a trifle drastic. It was modified by providing for compensation in cases where the judge or arbitrator so decided.

Local Improvement Assessments.

With respect to section 14, providing for the readjustment of local improvement assessments, Mayor Short admitted that it contained an element of injustice which could not be avoided. This section appeared to be imperfectly understood and was passed over to committee of the whole without much discussion.

Mayor Short and City Solicitor Bown will confer with the law clerk regarding the resurvey clauses concerning which there appears to be a wide difference of opinion.

Uniform Charter Clause.

Representatives of the cities of Edmonton, Calgary, Lethbridge and Medicine Hat will draft a clause to be inserted in all city charters with respect to the extension of utilities. It was agreed that while a city should not have the right to extend utilities or improvements across streets and alleys in other municipalities without the consent of the municipalities so invaded, a private citizen had the right to say what should be done with his own property. The clause to be drafted will cover this point to the satisfaction of all cities and will fully protect the municipalities, towns and villages.

LUBRICATING OIL USED.

New York, Oct. 15—It was explained at the offices of the Anglo American Oil company, which own the tank steamer Narragansett, that the oil pumped on the waters about the Volturno was lubricating oil. All that is generally needed, it was explained, is a few barrels of oil to quiet a sea, one of the company's officers said if the report cabled from London were true that all the tanks had been emptied the waves must have been enormous to require so much oil.

LIBERAL CLUB ON SOUTH SIDE HOLDS BIG RALLY

Members of Legislature Discant on Subjects of Present Political Importance.

ORGANIZATION SHOULD BE WATCHWORD

Excellent Musical Program Entertains Audience in Intervals Between Spicy Addresses.

A grand liberal rally was held last night at the clubroom of the South Edmonton Liberal club, Mr. A. T. Mode, the president of the club, acted as chairman. In his opening remarks Mr. Mode heartily welcomed all present, especially the various members of the government, of whom he saw several present. He stated that this club had taken the initiative in organization for liberalism and he earnestly hoped that other districts would do the same. "My idea of an election is not only to work a week or two preceding the election, but to have everyone who has the principles of liberalism at heart to get out and work and to get in a report of the political standing of the people in their immediate district, for the report you can get between elections is more likely to be correct than one got in the heat of an election campaign."

Mr. Puffer, M.P.P. for Lacombe, stated that he had not come prepared to deliver a speech, but being a liberal of the old school, he said: "One who is a standard bearer of liberalism must always be prepared." In referring to the chairman's remarks he said, "I do not think it can be impressed too strongly the necessity of organization. These clubs can be, and are, of the greatest assistance to your representatives. Elections are not only won on election day, but also by the ceaseless efforts of the workers, and only by the hearty co-operation of all." In describing the tactics used by the conservative party he said that liberalism had always stood for progress, advancement and freedom, and it had been noticed that the tories quite frequently had used arguments and made promises that had originated in the liberal party, and the significant fact was that after the election, and more especially if they were returned to power, they promptly forgot these promises, and it was an equally significant fact that the very bills and actions which the conservative scored and condemned before the election, were never repealed by them when they had the power to do so.

George F. Smith, M.P.P. for Camrose, was the next speaker, in his address Mr. Smith stated that although the house had been but a short time in session, and although there had been no blowing of trumpets, some very important business had been accomplished, and it promised to be a strenuous and severe session. One important thing had been accomplished and that was the passing of the Alberta and Great Waterways Act. This he said, had robbed the tory party of something over which they had been continually disputing and abusing for party purposes, not having the interests of the people at heart. He also stated that the idea of elections was not to keep any certain party in power, the great idea was to have a party in power that will give safe and sane legislation, and that is what liberalism is doing, and he was proud of the fact that Sir Wilfred Laurier went down fighting, and not of dry rot. He next touched on the free trade question. "I am a free trader, which I believe you all here are. I want to show you how Great Britain, the only country that has free trade, in spite of every prediction of the country, is today more prosperous than the countries that have a protective tariff. Protection breeds trusts and monopolies," he said, and he proved to the audience that there was more stress and poverty in the United States, which has protection, than in Great Britain. "I do not mean to say for one minute that the British people have not been through their share of trouble and trials, but I do mean to say that under the able administration of Asquith, Lloyd George and others who have seriously taken up the question of social conditions, it has been proved that there is a lower percentage of unemployed in Britain today than in Germany or the United States, countries which have protection." In closing he also touched on the navy question. He said in part, "If we need a navy let us build our own ships and man them with our own men. I am not opposed to Canada protecting her own interests or those of the motherland, but let us do it as Canadians, and not on borrowed dollars."

J. G. Turgeon, M.P.P. for Ribstone, was another of the speakers. He heartily agreed with the chairman and the previous speakers on the need of proper organization and the federation of liberal clubs. He also touched briefly on free trade. "The measure of a country's prosperity," he said, "is not by the standard of her gold and silver, but by the prosperity and happiness of her people." He spoke also on the Canada Grain Act, and in closing stated that one thing a party must do, and that is to deal fairly and honorably with the people, and that was what the government was doing.

Mr. S. G. Tobin, M.P.P. for Leduc, who has the reputation in the house for having made the briefest and wittiest speech, was the next speaker. He said that it was a pleasure and an honor to stand there before them and represent liberalism. In speaking of the proposed federation of clubs, he said, with such an organization as that, the public could be shown the true position that the opposition was taking. In speaking of free trade, he compared the difference between Great Britain, where in the recent hard times the factories had been running overtime, and the United States, where this was certainly not the case. Free trade meant the catering to the people, while protection meant catering to the trusts.

Mr. Whiteside, M.P.P. for Coronation, was the last speaker of the evening. He mentioned the fact that he was born a conservative, but educated a liberal, and recalled with regret that the first vote that he had cast was for a conservative. "It was no easy matter," he stated, "to tear oneself away from the principles taught in childhood, especially when one's own father was a staunch and strong tory." But, he added, the conservative party will have to change, and change greatly, before he would ever cast another vote for them. He referred to that grand old man Gladstone, who, in his early days was a conservative too, and had later turned to liberalism. "I believe I can honestly state that the young men who are in the liberal ranks of the government today are not in the house for what money they can make, but from a sincere desire to serve their country. I believe there is not a more honorable man in the province today than Hon. A. L. Sifton." In conclusion, he stated in reference to the proposed clubs that within 12 months the country will be in the midst of a dominion election, "and we, as a liberal party, want to carry every seat that we honorably can. Two years of conservative rule have been enough for me. There has been no progress in Canada since 1911."

It was regretted that Mr. W. Garieby, M.P.P., for Beaver River, and Mr. C. S. Pingle, M.P.P., for Redcliffe, could not be present, as expected.

The program was varied by some exceptionally good musical numbers. Mr. P. Sharman being especially complimented on his fine bass voice. Mr. George Hill caused considerable laughter by his humorous songs.

Mr. J. L. McKenzie, at the conclusion of the program, rose to move a vote of thanks to the speakers and those who took part in the program, on behalf of the club. This was most heartily responded to. After the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and the national anthem, three hearty cheers were given for Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. A. L. Sifton, James Douglas, M.P., and for the speakers of the evening.

SAY C. N. HOLDING UP C.P.R. GRAIN

Reported Canadian Northern Shuts Off Access to Govt. Elevators.

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Chairman Drayton of the dominion railway board received a telegram yesterday from Fort William stating that the Canadian Northern railway was preventing the Canadian Pacific railway from using the tracks to the government elevators there. D. B. Hanna, third vice-president of the C.N.R., stated that it was the first intimation the Toronto headquarters of the road had received of it. The C.N.R. tracks, he said, lay between those of the C.P.R. and the elevators, but as to the C.N.R. preventing the other railway from getting to the elevators he was not aware that such was the case. Until he had received word from Fort William officials he did not wish to make any comment on the matter.

RECENT SPEECH OF CHURCHILL IS NOT ENDORSED

Cabinet Has Reached Decision on Subject—Against Exclusion of Ulster in Home Rule.

London, Oct. 15.—The cabinet is understood to have arrived at a decision, according to the political correspondent of the Morning Post, in regard to the Ulster question.

The ministerial decision is said not to be in sympathy with Churchill's recent speech, but rather in accord with that made by Mr. Redmond, in which the latter declared for a unified parliament for Ireland and against the exclusion of Ulster.

It is expected that when Premier Asquith speaks to his constituents on October 25 he will make it clear that the government is prepared to accept certain of the home rule amendments in order to allay the northern province, but will insist that such amendments shall not be such as deprive the Dublin parliament of the power to govern the whole of Ireland.

In regard to the naval estimates, there is good reason to think that some of the ministers have expressed strong disagreement with any great increases for the navy and the matter had not been finally disposed of up to the time of the cabinet adjournment, which, however, shortly resumed its sitting.

REGULATE LAKE TRAFFIC.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 15.—Hon. J. D. Hazen will meet the representatives of the Dominion Marine association here on Friday to discuss with them a need of steamboat regulations and the suggested changes in the rules of the road for navigation on the great lakes. The Canadian rules may conform with those of the United States.

MORE RUMORS OF WAR FROM ULSTER

Reported Volunteer Force is Now 85,000—Opposition is Organizing.

London, Oct. 15.—The Daily Telegraph states that the strength of the Ulster volunteer force is now 85,000 men, but a new factor has arisen by the creation of the Irish Midland Volunteer force, which is intended to resist a Carsonite march on Cork, should that city be threatened. The new force is centred around Athlone, which is considered an important military position. Almost all of the adults of the new force have had previous military training, and there are 1,000 recruits from the army reserve. A cavalry squadron is also included in the contingent.

ATTENTION IS URGED TO THE WORLD'S NAVIES

Quarterly Review Contends Imperial Naval Defence Demands Consideration of People.

London, Oct. 15.—An article in the Quarterly Review entitled, "Whole World's Needs of Navies" urges attention to the progress of the navies of the world and the expansion of the British navy during the past 50 years, which has created new conditions.

The author contests the opinion that strategic requirements and naval needs can be estimated only by reference to the accumulation of rival armaments in a single sea, to the neglect of the necessary representation in other oceans. It is contended that from whatever angle imperial naval defence is regarded, it demands the considered

ROYAL WELCOME FOR CONNAUGHTS

Duke and Duchess With Princess Patricia to Arrive October 23.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—Premier Borden and several members of his cabinet will officially meet their royal highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia on their arrival in Canada on October 23, in Quebec on board the Empress of Ireland. The premier will leave the capital on October 21 for a banquet to be tendered him in Quebec on October 22 by the citizens of the ancient capital. The following day the governor general and his party will arrive and will be met by Premier Borden and members of the cabinet. While the departure of the Duke of Connaught from England will be accomplished with little ceremony, his arrival in Canada will be greeted with full vice-regal honors. Premier Borden will extend a welcome to their royal highnesses on behalf of the Dominion.

The Duke sails from Liverpool for Canada on October 17, and will spend a year in the Dominion before his final return to England.

When the board of admiralty has admitted to the British peoples that there is peril, its confession of weakness must be interpreted, not in official terms, but in the terms of the average man in Ottawa, Melbourne, Sydney, Cape Town and Pretoria, and only with the co-operation of the dominions can it be hoped to rehoist

"Le dernier cri": is the wearing of lace spats. Hitherto, women have worn the masculine form of spat. Now we have changed all that, and lace spats are described as "for fall wear."

Madame Leandi, who has lately arrived in Edmonton from Paris, received last Saturday at her residence on Twenty-first street, and charmed a large number of callers with her delightful conversation. Madame Leandi is a pupil of Mons. Jean di Retzki, and proposes to give a song recital in the near future, being the possessor of a splendid contralto voice, and is also in hopes of forming a class of vocal pupils in our progressive city.

Effective, Economical Complexion Beautifier

(Julia Orff in The Clubwoman.)

One reason I so strongly recommend mercolized wax is that it really takes the place of several different cosmetics, saving time, patience and expense. It is better than any cleansing cream, better than any massage cream, and better than any rouge, for accomplishing the results for which such articles are used. As the wax actually absorbs an old, faded or discolored cuticle, a little each day, the underlying skin which gradually appears is clearer, softer, healthier-hued and more youthful than any cosmetic-made complexion. Spreading on a thin coat of this wax at night, washing it off mornings, in a week or so produces a marvelous transformation. Just one ounce of mercolized wax, obtainable at any drug store, will do the work. There's nothing better to remove freckles, moth patches, liver spots, sallowness, blotches, pimples or blackheads.

For wrinkles and loose, saggy skin, I invariably recommend a face bath made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½ pt. witch hazel. This has remarkable astringent and tonic properties.

THE SOUL OF THE SASKATCHEWAN.

By Cy Warman.

The lifeblood of old Egypt courses with the muddy Nile,
The Czar sleeps with his faith in men who guard the empty street;
The peace of many nations rests behind a thin, red file;
But the soul of the Saskatchewan's a little grain of wheat.

The thin red line may riot, where but lately it ashamed,
The sentinel may slumber and a mob possess the street;
Old Egypt may know famine and the muddy Nile be damned,
But the soul of the Saskatchewan remains, a grain of wheat.

Let nation banter nation with their battle-flags unfurled,
The state may stand secure a space behind a frowning fleet;
God's sunshine on Saskatchewan! her fields shall feed the world,
For the soul of the Saskatchewan's a little grain of wheat.

GEORGE ROLLAND ON THE "LEGIT."

Headliner at Orpheum Shows This Week Discusses New Style of Acting.

In spite of the fact that he is confining himself to comedy this season in the laughable farce entitled "Fixing the Furnace," in which he appears on the Orpheum vaudeville bill at the Empire theatre the first half of this week, George Rolland is a "legitimate" actor when he is really working at it. He terms his present vaudeville behicle merely a frolic. Apropos of acting in the so-called "legit" he has the following erudite pointers extoling the "new" style of acting which sound rather good:

"The chief tenets of the veristic school of acting are simplicity and naturalness. This is applied to the stage settings as well as to the acting. It does not crowd the stage with all sorts of properties. It does not require of an actor that he be an exemplar of perpetual motion, nor that he should always be speaking theatrically.

"It simplified acting to the bare essentials which will carry across the footlights the meaning of the author. This school seeks to eliminate all useless crossings of the stage, risings and sittings and gestures which are not essential to some meaning of the play or to some phase of a character.

"It is simply acting naturally. The actor should try to act and speak as a man would in real life under the same circumstances. This a more difficult style of acting than that encountered in the old florid tradition, because it is more difficult to convey a meaning to an audience simply by a look, by a drooping of the shoulders, or the sinking of the voice than it is to gyrate with the hands and body and to use the full vocal power of the lungs and throat."

WOLFE'S OLD HOME TO BE NATIONAL MUSEUM.

London, Oct. 15—The recent acquisition of Wolfe's old home for the Canadian people has very appropriately aroused no little interest among traveling Canadians, many of whom have already found their way to Westerham, and the question is now raised as to what is to be the future issue of this historic manor.

The property, consisting of Quebec House and about an acre of land, which Mr. Joseph B. Learmont purchased some months ago from the executors of the Nardendstate is still in his possession, ready to be transferred to the Dominion Government whenever they desire it.

No Portraits There.

In the old house there was one lifesize portrait of General Wolfe's father, General Edward Wolfe, by Sir James Thornhill, but this now belongs to Mr. Learmont and is on view at the Montreal Art Gallery. Among the relics and documents which will eventually be placed there will probably be the famous Ware collection of some 240 Wolfe letters, documents, and portraits.

MISS HELENE POLMATIER

The accompanying cut shows Miss Helene Polmatier, concert soloist with Polmatier Sisters' Concert Orchestra, who have recently located in our city. The Polmatier Sisters' musical ability is too well known in Edmonton to need much comment, and to have such a high class organization locate in our city is indeed an ideal arrangement. Miss Helene is conceded to be one of the finest lady cornists in the states, having recetnly come from New York.

THE TWO ORPHANS

Miss Lea Coupez

One of the most distinguished young ladies of the Edmonton society, who will appear tomorrow night in the part of "Louise" at the Lyceum theatre. Miss Coupez is also the most devoted actress of the French Dramatic club, "Jeanne d'Arc."

MISS NELLIE WATTERS "THE GIRL FROM MUMMS,"

Miss Nellie Watters, who plays the part of Ethel in "The Girl from Mumms," spends her summer vacation raising peanuts on a farm in a little Wisconsin village named Ladysmith, about 25 miles north of Abbotsford, Wisconsin, and Duluth, Minnesota.

Miss Watters has been very successful from a financial standpoint raising peanuts. It all came about this way. Miss Watters was forced to take over 40 acres of land on a first mortgage held on the now famous peanut farm, and for two years debated with herself as to what use the land could be put to. One day, while making a day jump on a long journey, Miss Watters mentioned the fact to one of the lady members of the company and received the jestful reply "Make peanuts." "A good suggestion," responded Miss Watters. "Why not raise peanuts?"

Miss Watters closed her season early in March last year, and immediately secured the services of an experienced farm hand from a Virginia farm, where peanuts were raised exclusively, and repaired to her little Wisconsin home to be. Miss Watters put in the most enjoyable summer of her professional career cultivating peanuts, and last fall harvested a bountiful crop, which was disposed of at an advanced price. Miss Watters is more than pleased with her chance venture and states if crops will continue to be up to the standard of last year's harvest, musical comedy will lose its charms for her.

Miss Watters will be seen with "The Girl from Mumms" at the Empire theatre for three nights and Saturday matinee, commencing Thursday, October 16.

CONDEMNS MODERN DRESS.

Archbishop Bruchesi, of Montreal, has denounced the modern fashion of women's dress. The latest dress is a disgrace to civilization, he said in a recent sermon. "It is especially the duty of mothers and older sisters to inculcate a high degree of modesty in their young daughters and sisters. Be apostles of modesty and innocence and decent dress. Let the woman's glory be her modesty and purity and refinement. I beseech you to unite with me in this crusade against indecent dress."

TILTED GERMAN SINGER TO TOUR UNITED STATES.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—Baron Emil von Kleydorff, son of Prince Sayne Wittgenstein, sailed on the Kaiser Wilhelm II. this week for New York. He is going on a concert tour of the United States, and will appear under the name of Franz Egenleff.

The baron was a dashing cavalry officer with a brilliant future before him, but he gave up the army and made a name in Germany as an operatic baritone and received the title of court singer.

He belongs to the German-Russian Wittgenstein branch. His father was a Russian lieutenant-general and an aide de camp to the czar. His brother is marshal of the reigning Prince of Waldeck.

Are You Parting Your Hair or is Your Hair Departing?

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

Saves the Parting by Checking the Departing

Watch the part. It is there that approaching baldness is often first detected. The parting looks uneven, unhealthy. The white streak is gradually growing wider. You may not notice this from day to day, but watch the parting from month to month. As further evidence of what is happening, look at your brush or comb. It is clogged with dead hair and dandruff after every combing. The hair is gradually dying and coming out and the streak is becoming daily a little wider.

Dandruff is the cause of this and the work of destruction cannot be checked until the dandruff is eradicated and its accumulation stopped. If total baldness is to be escaped, the prompt and intelligent use of Newbro's Herpicide is demanded. The invisible microbic growth to which dandruff is due never halts in the hair-killing process. In a short time a bare spot is seen at the crown of the head. The hair bulbs are gradually being robbed of life, the hair is coming out, and finally there is no hair but a wig. Don't wait. Thousands have already proved the merits of Herpicide, and there is every reason to believe that it will do as much for you as it has done for others. With life and vigor added to the hair, the departing can be checked.

Send 10 cents for sample bottle and Booklet to The Herpicide Co., Dept. G., Detroit, Mich.

You dealer handles Herpicide in both 50c and $1.00 sizes and guarantees satisfaction or money refunded.

TODAY'S BIRTHDAY PARTY

SAMUEL BOWLES SYNONYMOUS WITH SPRINGFIELD REPUBLICAN

When the Republican was established in Springfield, Mass., in the first quarter of the nineteenth century, the name of Samuel Bowles appeared at the top of the editorial column as editor and publisher; and when the Republican, in its long career, entered the first quarter of the twentieth century, the name of Samuel Bowles still occupied the same place. Samuel Bowles and the Springfield Republican have come to be synonymous.

The third Samuel Bowles to occupy the editorial chair of Springfield's famous newspaper was born in the western Massachusetts metropolis 62 years ago today, October 15, 1851. He was educated in public and private schools in America and Europe, and took a special two-year course at Yale. It was just 40 years ago that he joined the editorial staff of his father's newspaper. After two years he transferred his activities to the business department, as manager. Following the death of Samuel Bowles II., in 1878, he became editor-in-chief and publisher, and soon demonstrated his ability to maintain the high journalistic standards established by his father and grandfather. Under his direction, the Republican became one of America's most influential journals, and its editorial expressions of opinion have always been widely quoted.

The Springfield Republican was established as a weekly journal in 1824 by Samuel Bowles I. The second Samuel Bowles was born in 1826, and grew up in his father's printing office. He soon became the general manager of the paper and in 1844 started the daily edition. The founder of the Republican came to be generally regarded as the ablest and most influential publisher in a small city of the continent. The second Samuel Bowles was a forceful, fluent writer, and the author of several books, but his fame rests principally on his editorials, in which he ably advocated such measures as the abolition of negro slavery, the suppression of the secession movement, free trade, universal suffrage, and other reforms. In 1872 the paper became independent in politics, and supported Horace Greeley for the presidency.

This is the twenty-sixth birthday of "Mme. Melba," for it was on October 15, 1887, that the nom de theatre of the gifted singer first appeared on an operatic program. Before that date Mme. Melba was Helen Porter Mitchell, and "Nellie" to her intimates. She was born in Melbourne, Australia, and adopted her stage name from that of her native city. Her father was a wealthy Australian merchant, of Scotch birth, and her mother was Spanish. In 1882, at the age of 18, she married Charles, son of Sir Andrew Armstrong. Some years later she went with her father to Paris and studied singing under Mme. Marchesi. She possessed a voice of rare strength and beauty, and, under the instruction of the enthusiastic Mme. Marchesi, the Australian song-bird was quickly fitted for her profession premiere. It was as Gilda in "Rigoletto," at the Theatre de la Monnaie, in Brussels, that she made her debut on October 15, 1887. The following year she went to London, making her debut at Covent Garden in "Lucia de Lammermoor." In one night she jumped into immediate popularity as one of the greatest of the world's prima donnas, a position she has held for a quarter of a century. From the first Capt. Armstrong was opposed to his wife's musical career, and in 1900 he divorced the "song bird" in a Galveston, Texas, court.

Some women have learned that stripes make one look taller, while plaids have the opposite effect, and use this knowledge in buying dress goods. Worth while, too.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

JEWS CELEBRATE FEAST OF THE TABERNACLES TONIGHT

The Jewish festival of Succoth or the Feast of the Tabernacles begins at sunset this evening, and Hebrews throughout the world will engage in a general observance of the holiday, which is continuation of the harvest festival of ancient Palestine. Orthodox followers of the faith of Moses mark the day reciting prayers and eating their meals in booths erected on roofs of tenements or in back yards. These temporary structures are decorated with fruits, flowers, twigs and garlands of leaves, symbolic of the harvest season, while the interior walls of the booth bear family and religious pictures.

Succoth falls on the fifteenth of the month Tishri, corresponding this year with the fifteenth-sixteenth of October in the Gregorian calendar. It was on this date that the farmers of the old Jewish nation gathered to celebrate the conclusion of the toilsome task of harvesting. The character of the feast is essentially agricultural, but, as the vast majority of Jews are now gathered in cities and towns, the holiday has gradually gained a nationalistic significance. The booths now commemorate the tents or huts in which the Israelites dwelt during their 40 years of wandering in the wilderness; but in the decorations of the booths the commercial and industrial Jews of today pay a tribute to their agricultural ancestors. The Jews now maintain a national farm school in Pennsylvania, and a pilgrimage is made to this institution every year on Succoth by prominent Jews of New York, Chicago and other American cities, a movement has been started to lure the poorer Jews of the Ghetto into farmers, and has already met with some success. Plans are under consideration to establish agricultural colonies of Hebrews in various sections, as well as in Palestine. In the latter country farming operations are now carried on on a large scale. American Jews have imported this year large quantities of the esrog, a fine specimen of the lime, which is now grown by the Palestine colonists. The orthodox say their Succoth prayers with the esrog in one hand and the lulay, a branch of palm and myrtle, in the other.

Two years from today, on Oct. 15, 1915, Europe will celebrate the centenary of the caging of that human Hon, Napoleon, on the barren rock of St. Helena, far out on a lonely sea. What a picture is conjured up by Ingersoll's dramatic phrase: "I saw him at St. Helena, with his hands crossed behind him, gazing out upon the sad and solemn sea." Napoleon, free to work his will upon Europe, was a menace to civilization and yet humanity, with its pity for the under dog, has often regarded England's action in consigning Napoleon to desolate St. Helena, as unnecessarily harsh and cruel. Yet what could England do. He had been given one opportunity to be good, but he refused to remain in his cage, with the cage door open. The cage must be strong, the door secure. St. Helena answered the purpose. So to St. Helena went the lion among men, and there, 98 years ago today, he heard the cage door clang shut upon him. For six years he paced the dreary confines of his cage, watched constantly by a keeper who seems to have been needlessly severe, and then death gave him freedom.

FIRST THINGS.

SOUTH DAKOTA

The first state legislature of South Dakota was convened at Pierre 24 years ago today. North and South Dakota having been admitted to statehood early in 1889. The first settlement in the Dakotas was made by a French-Canadian trader at Pembina in 1780. Lewis and Clarke passed through the country in 1804 and again in 1806. The Hudson's Bay Company claimed the territory, and planted a Scottish colony at Pembina in 1812. In 1823 the United States formally took possession, raising the Stars and Stripes over Pembina. Fort Pierre was founded in 1829, and two years later the first steamboat, the Yellowstone, reached that post. Sioux Falls, now the metropolis, was founded by settlers from Iowa in 1857, but was destroyed by the Sioux Indians in 1862, and the settlers fled to Yankton, which had just been made the capital of the new Dakota territory. A fort was built at Sioux Falls in 1865, and the work of building the city was renewed. The building of a railroad to Yankton in 1873, and the discovery of gold at Deadwood two years later, resulted in a great tide of immigration to South Dakota.

TODAY IN DOMINION HISTORY.

Hon. Martin Burrell, minister of agriculture in the Borden cabinet, was born in Berkshire, England, 55 years ago today. After leaving college he engaged in railroading and became general superintendent of the Great Western Railway of England. He was still well on the sunny side of thirty when he decided to come to Canada and become a tiller of the soil. He secured a small tract, in the Niagara peninsula, and set up as a fruit farmer. When not otherwise occupied he studied agricultural and horticultural problems, and it was not long until the young Englishman was speaking as an authority before meetings of the Fruit Growers' association and the Farmers' institute. After some years in the east he transferred his activities to British Columbia. There he began to take an active interest in politics and ten years ago he commenced his public career as mayor of Grand Forks. In 1907 he returned to England as fruit commissioner and lecturer for the British Columbia government. He was defeated in the first race for the Dominion parliament, but in 1908 he successfully contested Yale-Cariboo as the conservative candidate. With the formation of the Borden government, he was given the portfolio of agriculture.

October 15 is the anniversary of the arrival of Samuel de Champlain in Canada to assume the duties of governor of the country, in 1612. This was Champlain's fifth trip to Canada, but this time he came armed with the title and powers of lieutenant-governor, under the Prince of Conde, who had succeeded De Soissons, the successor to De Monts, as viceroy. From this date until 1629, and again from 1633 to his death, which occurred at Quebec late in 1635 he governed New France firmly and well.

It is a good plan to rinse the mouth well after eating. Decay of the teeth is largely caused by fermentation of fine particles of food left in the mouth at the close of the meal.

Strapping on her new cork legs, Bulgaria announces that she will yet get even with her former allies for what they did to her.

WHY SHE WAS NOT POPULAR.

I am not popular among people, I know it, and I never have been, a woman of 35 remarked to me. "But I am reconciled to that fact by now, and shall go my own way without worrying about it. I have always done the right thing as I saw it, and cannot feel that I have anything to reproach myself with."

I looked at her, astonished. "Why, you cannot be satisfied with such a state of affairs," I protested. "If you are not popular, there is surely a cause for it that lies within yourself, and can be remedied. Of course, it is not necessary to be overwhelmed with popularity, but really it is almost essential to be liked in life, because it increases your self-respect. And without that you accomplish but little."

I wished I knew her well enough to tell her why she was not popular as far as I could judge. Because, while she had a keen sense of performing her duties, she neglected quite an important one—that of being pleasant. "No one," says Lillian Whiting, "has any more right to go about unhappy than he has to go about ill-bred. He owes it to himself, to his friends, to society, and the community in general, to live up to his best spiritual possibilities, not only now and then, but every day and hour.

It is rather a modern conception that to appear unhappy is to appear ill-bred. But it is a healthy idea. Every person has to see the clouds on her own horizon, and it is asking too much of her to take a squint at the dark outlook of her neighbor, unless, of course, she can be of some positive assistance, either practically or with her sympathy. But much of the gloom that people permit the world to see is due to trifling setbacks rather than to suffering or tragedy. There is a tendency among us to get easily depressed. This was taken account of recently in a dressmaking establishment in New York, which made it a rule not to accept work on black material as it affected the spirits of the girls, who sewed upon it, and affected their efficiency. Naturally the woman who has this influence, on account of her personality, is not likely to be popular. Every one turns to the person, man or woman, who is likely to uplift and give buoyancy to the spirit, as involuntarily as the flower faces the sun.

COUNTESS GREY IS FOND OF CANADA.

Countess Grey has the pleasantest recollections of the Dominion, and in the seclusion of her North of England home can refer prettily to her seven years' sojourn in the land of the west. She strongly upholds, however, the homely Scottish proverb, "East or West, Hame's Best."

The Countess opened a bazaar at Berwick (Northumberland, England), recently, the border town which is near her home, and where she is very popular. Funds are being raised for a new parochial hall, and Archdeacon Hodgson, the incumbent, is with a willing band of helpers making a determined effort to raise the $6,000 needed.

Speaking of Canada, Countess Grey, who was received with loud applause, said:—"I must thank Mr. Hodgson most sincerely for the kind words he has used in referring to my husband and myself, and our stay in Canada. Canada is a beautiful country, and one that must be full of interest to many of you. Lord Grey and I were deeply interested in our life in Canada, and anyone who goes there will find all fellow-countrymen in the Dominion kind and hospitable in a wonderful degree, but you all know the old saying:

'East or West, Hame's Best,' and it was very pleasant after seven years' absence finding ourselves once more in our own home again in the delightful north country so full of romance and border story."

THE DANGERS OF HASTE.

After waiting until 44 years of age before marrying, and after marrying within a week after falling in love with a girl half his age, a Reading, Pa., man has issued a set of rules for the use of young men looking for life-partners. One of them reads: "Give yourself plenty of time to really find out whether you are in love." This rule strikes at the peril of haste which so many ignore. Matrimony should be considered as a long, probably a lifelong relation, one to be assumed after due deliberation of the obligations and necessities involved. But matrimony is not the only item endangered by haste. One may hastily decide to seek a new home and seriously blunder. One may hastily enter into business relations and pay a severe penalty for lack of consideration. Employment may be too hastily changed. Fashions may be too quickly accepted and followed. Haste is not necessarily speed. Not when it causes errors one must stop and waste time in correcting. The tortoise that creeps to its destination and arrives there is really speedier than the rabbit that runs and breaks its neck half way to the end of the road. These facts do not mean that one should cultivate slowness, either. They simply mean that it is best in any set of circumstances to be deliberate and sure.

PUBLIC MEETING OPPOSES SYSTEM OF NUMBERING

Denounces the Present Attitude of Mayor and Aldermen Toward Citizens.

COMMITTEE WILL CONSIDER NOMINATIONS

Disapproves of Change in System of Taxation for Special Improvements.

Protesting against the present city administration last night in the Tull block, Alberta avenue, about a dozen speakers addressed citizens of Norwood on various municipal matters, particularly the system of special taxation and the new street numbering system.

The meeting also desired itself to go on record as denouncing the present civic administration and their attitude towards the citizens during their term of office.

A resolution was adopted appointing a committee to arrange for the nomination of aldermanic and mayoral candidates. The members of the committee chosen are: J. Treble, J. B. McEachern, J. Collins, Dr. Campbell, D. B. Campbell, Joseph A. Clarke, J. Rutherford, J. Cotterel, J. Ross and W. Ferguson.

A meeting of the committee will be held Friday night in Mr. Rutherford's store on Alberta avenue.

Dr. Crang's suggestion that the public schools of the city should be used for the purpose of municipal elections, not only for polling booths, but also for the holding of meetings, was adopted in the form of a resolution.

A further resolution expressing opinion adverse to the change of taxation for special improvements, now being applied by the city council and for the ratification of which the legislature is being approached, and declaring in favor of the method of taxation prevailing prior to that change was carried.

Another resolution adopted condemns the street numbering system introduced by the city council and enjoined by the courts and declares itself in favor of the retention of the name of First street where it now is in the heart of the city.

The paving of country trails while central streets were unimproved, the dismissal of ex-Auditor Richardson, the suggested street numbering system, and the proposed method of special taxation were roundly scored by the speakers.

A petition to the legislature pointing out the proposed amendment of the city charter had not received the sanction of the citizens, and praying that no such amendment be made, was circulated and a large number of signatures annexed.

Among those who delivered vigorous addresses were Messrs. Powell, J. A. Clarke, J. Adair, and McArthur.

PANKHURST JUST COMMON ALIEN

U.S. Immigration Bureau Issues No Special Orders Concerning Her.

Washington, Oct. 15.—Commissioner General Caminetti, of the immigration bureau, issued a statement last night defending the attitude of the bureau towards Mrs. Pankhurst, the British suffragette, who is due to arrive in New York the latter part of this week. He said: "The report that the bureau of immigration or department of labor had decided or intimated that Mrs. Pankhurst will, on her arrival at New York, be held for examination by a board of special inquiry at Ellis Island, is without foundation. The bureau and the department have no power to order admission or rejection, except on appeal. At the ports the inspectors who first meet the incoming applicants are under the law and regulation independent of the boards of inquiry as well as of the commissioner of immigration, in so far as holding applicants to appear before the board of inquiry is concerned; and in like manner the boards of inquiry are in presence of the commissioner.

"Mrs. Pankhurst will be treated respectfully, but just like any of the applicants, and this is all any officer of the bureau or department can authoritatively assert."

Officials at immigration headquarters, besieged on one side with protests against Mrs. Pankhurst's admission and on the other with protests against her exclusion, are taking pains not to put themselves in the position of doing anything which might in the least respect be construed as prejudicing her case. Consequently, and for the reason that the militant British suffragette is to be treated as any other alien, no orders whatever have been given to the Ellis Island station.

PRIEST CHARGED WITH THEFT OF PAINTING

Rome, Oct. 15.—Some tourists who visited the cathedral of Santa Maria Maggiore at Spello yesterday discovered that Pinturicchio's painting of the Madonna in the Cappella del Sacramento, which is valued at $40,000 had been stolen and replaced by a copy.

They informed the police who interrogated the prior, Father Santarell. The latter admitted the substitution and said he gave the original to the Marquis Bernardo, an art dealer. The police arrested the prior and the marquis. It is believed that the original of the painting has been smuggled to London.

EVILS OF TOBACCO ARE DISCUSSED BY W.C.T.U.

Urge Support of Anti-cigarette Bill to be Presented at Parliament Soon.

London, Oct. 15—The use of tobacco proved a live topic of discussion at yesterday's session of the Dominion Women's Christian Temperance Union convention, the report of the special committee in charge of the work of educating the people against narcotics, urged the necessity of co-operation if the anti-cigarette bill to be presented to parliament, was to become law.

The W.C.T.U. was urged by Mrs. Balloch, St. John, N.B., to develop scientific temperance teaching in the Sunday schools. The idea was adopted by the convention and a special committee was named to take charge of the proposals.

SYLVIA PANKHURST CENTRE OF FIGHT

Arrested While About to Enter Hall to Deliver Address—Militants Attempt Rescue.

London, Oct. 15—Sylvia Pankhurst, who was the central figure of a fierce struggle last night between the police and the militant suffragettes in the east end of London, was arrested when about to enter the Poplar town hall with the object of addressing another meeting. The militants tried to rescue her, but the police who were in large numbers, succeeded in placing her in a taxicab and driving to Holloway jail.

The meeting was abandoned in order to hold a protest demonstration outside the jail.

PRINCE ARTHUR AND DUCHESS OF FIFE WED NOON TODAY

trict. Pearls have been her favorite gems, and the gifts include some very valuable ones.

For their London residence the royal couple have leased a large house recently built for the Earl of Plymouth on Mount street, in the most fashionable quarter of the west end. The prince and his bride will not take up their residence there until December, and in the meantime the house will be refitted and furnished.

Among Prince Arthur's wedding presents were: Premier Borden, of Canada, and his ministers, hand engraved dinner service of Canadian workmanship; Canada Club, Grand piano; Earl Grey, statuette; Viscount Haldane, despatch box; The Connaught Household in Canada, loving cups; Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, silver tray; Lord Aberdeen, wine stands; Lord Minto, fire screen; Lord Mount Stephen, silver plate; Sir Charles Ross, rifle; Lord Strathcona, diamond brooch and automobile.

Prince Arthur is a fortunate sufferer from duplication of presents, receiving 20 cigarette boxes, 17 clocks, 14 ink stands, 12 walking sticks, 11 pairs of sleeve links, and nine paper knives.

A futile attempt to reach King George and Queen Mary was made by a militant suffragette, Miss Margaret Sterling, as their majesties were on their way to the wedding of Prince Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Fife. The woman broke through a line of police waving a petition, but she was seized and arrested.

There was room for fewer than 300 persons in the simply decorated chapel, but not since the coronation of King George had there been such a gathering of royalties and notable personages as on this occasion.

Besides King George, Queen Mary, Queen Mother Alexandra, the King and Queen of Norway and other royal relatives of the couple the congregation consisted of the diplomatic corps, the British cabinet members of the royal households, and a few distinguished civilians.

to believe that the Huerta group was capable to establish or maintain constitutional authority in the southern republic. They also feel that the Huerta officials are no longer deserving of such diplomatic relations as have hitherto existed.

As yet there is no concrete evidence that the Washington administration intends to use force. The White House has discouraged the heads of the army and navy from taking any steps that would give an alarmist impression.

U. S. Might Aid Rebels.

Home officials said they would not be surprised of the failure of the Huerta government to comply with promises made to John Lind, which would cause President Wilson and Secretary Bryan hitherto have opposed such a step, but informal communications within the last two weeks with the constitutionalists has indicated that the Washington government is scrutinizing the leaders of the constitutionalist's movement to determine what are their purposes and whether they could establish constitutional authority over Mexico.

Developments in the situation are expected to follow quickly now as the rejection in advance of the election planned for October 26 is likely to draw out new expression of policy by the United States.

It is confidently expected here that foreign governments immediately will follow in the lead of United States in whatever steps taken. Some of them have explained to this course their recognition of Huerta, following their interpretation of Ambassador Henry Lane Wilson's congratulatory speech to Huerta as forcasting recognition by the United States. Today incidentally Henry Lane Wilson's resignation as Ambassador to Mexico went into effect.

Conference Discusses Huerta.

Washington, Oct. 15.—The Spanish minister to Mexico has called a conference today of the entire diplomatic corps in the Mexican capital to discuss Huerta's decree of dictatorship, and the situation generally. Advices to that effect reached the state department early today from Charge O'Shaughnessy.

Germany Watching Mexico.

Berlin, Oct. 15.—The German foreign office is following new developments in Mexico very closely, at the same time adhering to its attitude of allowing the United States government an absolutely free hand in settling its policy without extraneous advice.

TWO-STORY BUILDING DESTROYED ON JASPER

Fire totally destroyed an old two-storey frame building adjoining the Craig-Nair block on Jasper east early this morning.

J. Sugar, his wife and child were sleeping on the second floor, when they were awakened by the smoke and had to flee in their night clothes. Companies 1 and 2, under Chief Lauder, diverted their attention to adjacent property and prevented the flames from spreading. The burned building had gained too much headway before the department was notified.

HEROIC RESCUES MINIMIZE KNOWN LOSS OF LIFE

Captain Perry Drowned—One Barge Piled on Tip of Cape Cod and Other Vessels In Precarious Positions—Daring Rescue of Four Men at Grand Manan, N.B.

Boston, Oct. 15.—A northeast gale, eluding the vigilence of the weather bureau, swooped down upon coast wise shipping on the New England coast today, leaving death and ruin in its wake.

Heroic rescues kept the known loss of life down to one, that of Captain Sears Perry, of Sandwich, who perished in the wreck of his large Seine boat on Scorton Beach.

The barge Summer R. Mead, one of the tow of the tug, Paoli, from New York for Boston, piled up on the Tip of Cape Cod and her three men were taken off through boiling seas. The Oakland, another of the Paolis string, was in a precarious condition near Highland light tonight where the crew was signalling for help.

Six men were taken off the two-masted British schooner Georgie Pearl Elizabeth port, for Liverpool. The little vessel was in a bad position and was expected to go to pieces before morning.

On the extreme northeast of the New England coast another daring rescue of four men took place when a small boat from a Canadian steamer braved the breakers near Grand Manan, N.B., where the British fishing schooner Dreadnought was pounding to pieces.

As usual, the brunt of the northeaster was felt on the long arm of Cape Cod, where a large coastwise fleet of schooners, tugs and barges, released yesterday from a two week's fog embargo, was rounding the cape. Many of them worked to snug anchorages with the loss of the sails and deck fittings.

GEOLOGIST WILL EXPLORE FOR OIL IN THIS PROVINCE

Former Geological Surveyor for Great Britain on His Way to Alberta.

Winnipeg, Oct. 15—Cunningham Craig, former geological surveyor of Great Britain, and of Trinidad and Tobago, consulting geologist to the Burmah Oil company, and the British government, arrived in Winnipeg this morning en route to Calgary, and adjacent territory, where he is about to conduct a rigid survey of the oil lands to the southwest of that city.

Speaking of the possibilities of the territory over which the expert has already been, Mr. Craig stated today that the possibilities were tremendous. The navy royal commission on fuel and engines, had called him before them in London to give evidence on the possibilities of Western Canada in oil, and if the product was as great as Mr. Craig expected it would mean that naval eyes would be turned direct to the west as a source of fuel for the British navy, a matter which was now being given the most serious consideration. The lack of oil fuel being owned in British territory was the great drawback, and should Western Canada be able to provide the quantity, the matter might speedily be settled to the great advantage of the west.

Mr. Craig leaves tonight with Mowbray S. Berkeley for Calgary, where he will make final geological surveys for first test wells before finally passing his definite opinion.

A note of warning regarding rash speculation was issued by Mr. Craig, who pointed out that petroliferous areas southwest of Calgary which, being rich in oil, could be next to a strip which would bear no oil at all.

MYSTERIOUS ARMED MAN ARRESTED ON SUSPICION

Supposed He Was Bent on Assassinating King and Queen of Saxony.

Dresden, Saxony, Oct. 15.—A mysterious stranger, armed with a loaded revolver and a dagger, was arrested last night in a theatre here. He had supposed that the King of Saxony and the Grand Duke Cyril of Russia were to be among the audience.

The stranger had rented a room in an hotel overlooking the street through which King Frederick August and the grand duke were to pass on their way to attend the gala performance at the Court theatre. His actions were so extraordinary as to arouse suspicion. He was enticed below while the royal procession was passing and given a ticket to another theatre, where he was later arrested.

"THE REDEMPTION" IS APROPROS.

Apropos of the recent passing of the notorious Barbary Coast the greatest gangrened spot perhaps in the world, the headline act at the Pantages this week is very timely. It is called "The Redemption" and deals with life in that vast cesspool for which San Francisco has been famous for so long. Only those who have visited Frisco and seen the great area where vice flourished to the fullest degree can realize that the sketch is very true in every detail. No one who had not visited the various dance halls of the coast, such as the Midway, the Palm, the Cave, or the Thalia, could hope to understand the strange medley of life that the feverish hours of the night brought forth there. However, it is now all done away with, and sightseers will no longer have the opportunity to go "slumming." However, the act at Pantages gives some idea of the life that was led there and conveys a sidelight on the class of people who inhabited the Barbary coast.

BILLIARDISTS DINE AT Y.M.C.A.

Enjoyable Event Held Last Evening by Members of the Club

One of the most enjoyable banquets ever held in the Y.M.C.A. was that of the billiard club of the association which took place last evening. In point of numbers it was not the largest, but for enthusiasm it was certainly a good one. At 6.30 p.m. 30 of the billiard enthusiasts of the association sat down to a banquet provided by the popular chef of the Y.M.C.A. cafe, H. Swain.

After devouring all the provisions within sight the boys sat back in their chairs and listened to an informal program.

Mr. E. L. Fuller, one of the best exponents of the game, acted as chairman, and Mr. H. V. Knowland, the donor of the Knowland cup, made the presentation to the winner, Mr. F. B. Hirst, and in a carefully prepared speech complimented the association on the class of members. He said he had been a member of the association for 20 years, and he found in the Edmonton association the best spirit of any place he had been and he had been a member of four associations in those 20 years.

Mr. Hirst replied in a few well-chosen words.

Mr. J. H. Thom, as a representative of the board of directors of the association, spoke, and the applause which he received was proof that his remarks were appreciated.

Mr. Sid Ash then presented the Ash Brothers' billiard cup for this season. He spoke very highly of the Edmonton association and presented one of the finest cups for competition.

The talk was all billiards, and we prophesy a very interesting time in the billiard room of the Edmonton association during the coming months.

Mr. W. Eley, the chairman of the billiard committee, made a very interesting speech.

Some business was transacted and the banquet broke up, all having enjoyed a very pleasant time.

POLICE COURT

Mike Foley owned a coon coat valued at $175. When warm weather set in last May he asked his friend, Roy Schulz, to take care of the coat for him during the summer.

Schulz was supposed to have taken the coat to L. W. Brown's store for storage. About that time Schulz ran behind in his board bill and tendered a couple of phony checks in payment and incidentally gave Fiddler the coat, saying he was going to Mexico, where furs were out of the question.

Fiddler accepted the coat, and in order to raise money to recompense his mother for the cost of boarding Schulz, sold it to Mrs. J. W. Trembline for $40, and she, in turn, gave it to her husband.

Mrs. Alec. Monroe then got possession of the coat, and gave it to her husband. Schulz, in the meantime, got in bad with his phony checks, and was sent to the penitentiary in Manitoba.

When cold weather set in a few weeks ago Foley looked for his coat from Schulz and found Schulz in jail. He traced his coat to the home of Mrs. Monroe, where it was seized by the police and a warrant served on Fiddler for the theft of the garment.

In police court this morning Magistrate Massie committed Fiddler to trial in a higher court of competent jurisdiction. In the meantime Foley will continue to shiver through the winter without his coat till the case is settled.

Charges of speeding against the Imperial Oil company and A. O. Donohue were withdrawn.

R. L. Coffin, charged with excessive drinking, was interdicted for two years. A charge of theft preferred against him by Charles P. Stephens was withdrawn.

C. H. Anderson pleaded guilty to selling liquor without a license and was fined $100 and costs. On another charge of living of the vails of prostitution was withdrawn. As keeper of a common bawdy house the charge was adjourned for hearing tomorrow.

Alice Priest, found in a bawdy house, pleaded guilty and was fined $10 and costs. Hannah Osborn, accused of being an inmate, had the charge withdrawn. The case of Katie Wooles, found in a bawdy house, was adjourned for hearing tomorrow.

Mrs. J. C. Steele, as keeper, and her husband, charged with living on the vails of prostitution, were remanded for hearing tomorrow.

Homer Barry, on a charge of false pretence, preferred by Wah Sing, was remanded.

STORY OF PRODUCTION OF "IVANHOE" FILMS IS INTERESTING ONE

Star Wounded While Engaged in Work But Sticks Till Film is Finished.

When the wonderful representation of the stirring scenes about which Sir Walter Scott wrote in "Ivanhoe" are seen at the Monarch theatre Monday and Tuesday the public will be able to grasp for the first time the infinite skill, knowledge of historical association and the assurance necessary to produce with modern accessories and actors the stirring scenes of Merrie England in the days of Robin Hood and Richard.

Herbert Brenon, director of the Imp company, who produced the picture, has earned the admiration of all who have heard of or witnessed his exploit. And, strange as it may seem, he is a veritable hero in the little town of Chepstow, where the scenes were enacted, this, though he interrupted the work of the town and its inhabitants for a fortnight, and used the men of the foundries and other industries to defend and attack the castle, and to provide local color in such capacities as being thrown from the castle wall and being drowned in the moat.

As every one knows who visits the "movies" the leading figure in the drama, the brave Ivanhoe, is played by that sterling actor King Baggot. The English illustrated magazines have frequently commented on his resembiance to Lewis Waller, who has appeared in Edmonton and in the suit of mail, he does show a likeness to Waller in "Richard the Third," which is striking. In the finish of the fight, when he had the enemy on the run, he received a tremendous blow on the head which may have been intended to settle a grudge in the foundry. It found the wrong mark, and so savage was it, that the actor realized that he must lose consciousness. But it was not on the cards for the victorious Ivanhoe to faint at that time, and so it must not be. Weak, dizzy and half out of his wits, he nevertheless kept his head, and his feet as well, until he saw the camera operator drop the handle. Then, when the picture was taken and the necessity of acting over, he fainted away.

In the "Ivanhoe" picture, about one thousand men were used as soldiers and extras. A great castle was borrowed for the occasion, and the British museums were ransacked for historically correct arms, armor, and other properties.

BALLOON LANDS SAFELY

London, Oct. 15.—The balloon Goodyear, with the two American aeronauts Upson and Preston aboard, engaged in the race for the James Gordon Bennet cup, landed safely this afternoon near Bridlington, in the county of York, 26 miles from Hull.

CAPTAIN INCH IS BADLY HURT WHILE FIGHTING FLAMES

Probably Burned Alive.

New York, Oct. 15—Between 80 and 90 passengers on the Volturno were trapped in compartments No. 1 by the first explosion on the vessel Thursday morning, and either perished at once or were burned alive. This news was brought to port today with the docking of the steamer Grosser Kurfurst, bearing 105 survivors of the disaster.

Officers Did Good Work.

Liverpool, Oct. 15—According to Captain Trant, of the Devonian, there was some attempt on the part of the male passengers of the Volturno to rush to the rescuing boats when they reached the vessels side, and the captain and officers of the Volturno did good work in keeping them under control.

When the Devonian departed from the scene, Captain Trant says, the fire on the Volturno progressed toward the after part of the vessel.

Pitiful Screams For Help.

Captain Trant said the pitiful screams for help uttered by the passengers of the Volturno made the night hideous to the would-be rescuers, who were unable to reach them. The first survivor to reach the Devonian was a man who had jumped into the sea, and had managed to get near the liner. He was taken out of the water unconscious. As soon as it was possible for the Devonian to launch boats and proceed to the Volturno the women and children were removed first. They were swung along in coal baskets, and lowered to the boats.

Many Volunteered.

Havre, Oct. 15—Captain Caussin reports that many volunteered to man the whale boat when it was launched. He chose the second officer, Captain Rousselett, to command a picked crew. As the whale boat was lowered it was almost crushed against the side of the ship on the first attempt, but the second attempt was successful, and the passengers cheered at it got away. The boat was quickly lost sight of in the darkness as the seas were running very high.

Lieutenant Izenic asked to be allowed to command the second whaleboat which was got off successfully. From La Touraine, the boats flare could be seen for some time and signals were burned on the ship to guide the boats on their return, while the steam siren blew continuously.

Lieutenant Izenic returned after being away for three hours, with five of the Volturno's passengers, who climbed on board La Touraine up a rope ladder with lines tied around them.

What is so rare as a day in June? asks the poet. We don't know—unless it is praise for a man who has been dead a year.

MEDICINE HAT'S GAS CAPACITY IS MUCH INCREASED

Fifty Per Cent. More Than at the Beginning of the Year.

Medicine Hat, Alta., Oct. 15.—By the end of this year this city will have an increased natural gas well capacity of 50 per cent more than when the year began. A dozen wells covered the number at the beginning of 1913, and when the year closes, with those now in hand and to be brought in within the next two months, the number will be 18—all municipally controlled and owned.

The first well to be added to the list was one that was drilled in what is known as the South Industrial site, the contract having been let last year, but which was not completed till this year. Then in June a contract was let for nine more wells to keep pace with the Industrial and municipal development of the city. The International Supply company, of this city, who secured this drilling contract at a price approximating $75,000, completed the first well known as No. 1, in the southeast part of the city, in record time.

No. 2 well, located on the West Industrial site, in section 22, is now about completed. This is where the Saskatchewan Bridge and Iron company has already begun construction of its extensive works. Drilling on No. 3 well of this contract is well under way on the Upper Esplanade, between the city and the pumping station, and the work of putting up the drilling rig on No. 4 well, in Cousins and Sissons, west of the Connaught school, has been started. The No. 5 well will probably be located across the river by the city engineer.

In addition to these new wells, during the summer the well supplying the Alberta Clay Products Co., which had been giving some trouble owing to being clogged up, has been cleaned out, and is now flowing as strongly as when it was first placed in commission, nearly four years ago. The fact of itself is significant, as showing the almost inexhaustible supply of natural gas here.

All of the wells are about 1,050 to 1,200 feet in depth, varying with the contour of the surface, what is known as the Medicine Hat gas sand being reached at a depth of around 1,000 feet. They all have a rock pressure of from 550 to 600 pounds to the square inch, with a flow each of about 2,000,000 cubic feet daily. With the completion of the contract, Medicine Hat expects to have all the natural gas required for a considerable time to come.

TEMPERANCE AGITATION REVIVED IN ONTARIO

Eight Petitions Before Government Asking Authority to Submit Scott Act to People.

Ottawa, Ont., Oct. 15—There is apparently a revival in Ontario of the interest of the temperance people in the Scott act as a means of meeting the liquor evil. No less than eight petitions from various municipalities for authority to submit to the electors on January 1 next a proposal to adopt the Scott act are now before the government. The municipalities concerned are Muskoka, Algoma, Huron, Welland, Niagara Falls, Parry Sound and Sudbury. The petitions have not yet been dealt with, pending scrutiny of the voters' lists to see that one-fourth of the total number of the voters in each case are on the petition.

WATCHING ALL TRAINS.

Calumet, Mich., Oct. 15—All trains are being watched to prevent the escape of the men who Sunday afternoon figured in the shooting affair at the Centennial mine, where a parade of copper mine strikers was fired on, but no one injured, by one of four men in an automobile. Only three of the men are sought, as the fourth, the chauffeur, is held to be blameless.

DENY BETROTHAL.

Cobourg, Germany, Oct. 15—The Dowager Duchess Marie, of Saxe Cobourg Gotha, yesterday authorized denial of the report published in Europe and America, of the betrothal of the Princess Elizabeth of Roumania to Crown Prince George of Greece. The Dowager Duchess says the prince and princess have never seen each other.

ALL DIFFERENCES SETTLED.

Berlin, Oct. 15—All the contentions regarding the accession of Prince Ernest August of Cumberland to the throne of Brunswick have been settled by personal conference between Emperor William and the young prince during the last few days, according to the Mittag Zeitung. The newspapers say that the emperor demanded and obtained from his son-in-law the declaration which was necessary before Prince Ernest August could succeed to the throne, in other words, a definite renunciation of his pretension to the throne of Hanover.

Ease That Sore Joint Nerviline Will Do It

The Champion Clog and Pedestal Dancer of Canada Tells How to Keep in Trim.

Few men in his profession are better known than Mr. Thomas Hogan, of 27 Fortification Lane, Montreal, who writes:—"To limber up a stiff joint, to remove every sense of soreness from tired muscles I can tell you nothing compares with Nerviline. It is really a wonderful liniment, and I use it continually, simply because I find it keeps the muscles and joints supple and entirely free from pain and stiffness. I earnestly recommend Nerviline to every person that requires to use a strong, penetrating, pain-subduing liniment."

For Rheumatism Nerviline is a wonder; for Sciatica it cures where others fail; for Lumbago, stiffness and cold, nothing surpasses it. Keep Nerviline handy—it's good to take inwardly, destroys internal pains quickly, and is just as good for outward application. ## MEN WELL KNOWN IN CITY MAKE RICH HAUL

"Billy" De Graves and Harold Harvie Among Those Who Made Money On Calgary Oil Boom.

"Billy" DeGraves, a newspaper man, and Harold Harvie, who was with the Canadian Mineral Rubber Paving company until a few months ago, were among those who made a "clean up" in the oil boom at Calgary during the past week. How they accomplished it is told as follows by the Calgary Albertan:

"Hearing that the afternoon papers would come out with the authoritative statement of the discovery of oil, and anticipating the rush on the land office that would follow, DeGraves left the King George hotel at 3.45 for the land office. He had only 20 cents in his pockets, but on the way down met Harvie, to whom he told the story of the strike, and suggested that the latter stake the expedition to every acre of all land that could be filed on. Harvie had just the necessary $40 for eight sections, and decided that the venture was a good one, and in exchange for his information staked DeGraves to four sections. The future John D. Rockefellers filed to the limit, tying up 5,120 acres of the best land on the anticline. Less than three hours after Harvie had sold a half interest in his holdings for $8,000, and DeGraves had $350 in cash for a small portion of his holdings, and still retains the big bulk of the land, refusing to sell.

According to the experts, the land held by Harvie and DeGraves is right on the anticline, and is liable to be one of the best drilling sites in the field.

"It was the last ready cash I had," said Harvie last night, "and as the concern for which I was working had gone into liquidation a few days before, I didn't know whether to go or not, but 'Billy' talked so hard and so fast that I decided to take a chance. Now I'm glad I did. It was the quickest money I ever made in Calgary."

An amusing feature of the venture of the two Calgary oil kings was Harvie's reply to the officials at the land office as to his occupation. As stated above, the concern for which he was working went into liquidation a few days ago, and on being asked his occupation, Harvie thought a minute, smiled, and said "Retired businessman."

PROPOSITION TO CHANGE NAME OF CHURCH ARGUED

Long Discussion on Question at Convention of Protestant Episcopal Church at New York.

New York, Oct. 15.—The suggestion that the corporate name of the Protestant Episcopal church be changed to the American Catholic church, precipitated a long debate Monday at the general convention of the church. At the instance of the high church it was voted by the house of deputies to appoint a commission to revise the prayer book, but before the decision to do this was reached the low church delegates had succeeded in having restricting amendments made to the resolution that authorized the appointment of the commission. It was openly declared by the low church delegates that the resolution as introduced by the high church left the way clear for the commission to decide for the whole house of deputies that the church name should be changed. The amendments made it impossible for the commission to take such action if it desired to do so.

The resolution to "revise and enrich" the book of common prayer was offered by the diocese of California and the missionary district of Arizona, which asked that a commission of seven bishops, seven presbyteries, and seven laymen consider the matter and report at the next triennial convention.

HARRY LEWIS DEFEATED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 14.—Harry Lewis, claimant of the welterweight title, was decisively beaten Monday night by Joe Borrell, a middleweight of this city, in what was scheduled to be a six-round bout. The referee stopped the bout at the beginning of the fifth round to prevent Lewis from being knocked out.

Lewis became unconscious after being taken to his dressing room, and was later removed to a hospital, where he was found to be suffering from concussion of the brain. He recovered consciousness while in the hospital, but the doctors say he is still in a serious, although not critical condition.

FRUIT LAXATIVE IF CONSTIPATED, TAKE "CALIFORNIA SYRUP OF FIGS"

Best liver and bowel regulator for mamma, daddy and children.

If you're headachy, constipated, bilious or stomach is disordered and you want to enjoy the nicest liver and bowel cleansing you ever experienced, take a tablespoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" tonight and in the morning all the constipation poison, bile and clogged-up waste will gently move out of the system without griping and you will feel splendid.

Every member of the family should use this fruit laxative as occasion demands. It is just as effective for grandma as it is for baby. It simply can not injure. Even cross, sick, feverish children just love its pleasant taste and mothers can rest easy after giving it, because it never fails to effect a good "inside cleaning."

For thirty years "California Syrup of Figs" has been recommended by physicians as the ideal stomach, liver and bowel cleanser. Millions of families who are well informed use nothing else, but recently there has come a flood of spurious fig syrups, so we warn the public to ask plainly at drug stores for a 50 cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," and see that it is prepared by "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no cheaper size. Hand back any "counterfeit" with contempt.

POLICE COURT

George Gimble declared good spirits prompted him to send his hand through a plate glass window. Magistrate Hefferan thought they were evil spirits and assessed a $3 fine with costs, and an order to pay $9 damages.

James F. Britton, a refined looking gent from the east, sought solace in the overflowing bowl and swallowed some delirium tremens perms. Britton was discharged with a warning to use sanitary crockery.

Frank Jeffords sold Charles Noyer some land for $500, said to be located where it wasn't. Noyer had Jeffords arraigned in court yesterday morning, charging him with obtaining the money under false pretences. Adjourned for hearing Thursday.

G. H. Scott didn't know he was speeding his auto on Jasper at the rate of 22 miles an hour until he had it explained to him in court yesterday. It cost Mr. Scott over a dollar a mile to become convinced.

Bunting and company, in trying out a new machine before purchasing, failed to hang a number plate on the car. $1 and costs.

Ignorance of the law relative to the carrying of concealed weapons cost John Forthe $15 and costs, or one month at hard labor for toting a revolver, which was ordered confiscated by the authorities.

A dozen plain drunks became snowbound Monday night and were piloted to safe moorings at Rice and Fraser. Not one of them was able to come up smilingly yesterday morning, and they will be kept in a dry spot till the snow has melted away.

GERMAN GOVERNMENT SENDS WARSHIP TO MEXICAN PORT

Great Britain and Germany Both Displeased With Huerta's Action in Imprisoning Deputies—United States Looks Favorably on Germany's Action.

Washington, Oct. 15—Germany's decision to despatch a warship to Mexican waters attracted wide attention in official circles here Monday. No intimation had been received here of Germany's intention, and President Wilson was informed only by press despatches of the action.

No formal comment was made of the incident, but it was apparent that the Washington government was not displeased. The sending of a German warship is in line with the policy of the other European governments which have had vessels cruising off the Mexican coasts from time to time during the crucial moments of Mexican strife.

Significance was attached to the action by official Washington, however, because it was taken as indicating that European powers who had previously recognized the Huerta government—among which were Germany and Great Britain—now saw evidence of Huerta's inability to compose the situation.

Latest advices to Washington are to the effect that the British government is deeply concerned over its recognition of Huerta, and it is even declared reliably that King George and Queen Mary have taken a personal interest in the situation, with a view to measures that would support to the policy of the United States. It is reported that Great Britain is prepared at the first opportunity to repudiate the recognition, and the failure of the Huerta government to hold a constitution election on October 26 would probably be held as sufficient cause. In this connection officials here recall the British government's recent statement that recognition of Huerta was "provisional" pending an election.

While the American vessels in Mexican water outnumber the foreign ships and will render any aid not only to Americans but to all foreigners, in case of emergency, it is believed by the Washington authorities that the sending of a German vessel immediately after the arrest of members of the chamber of deputies may have a sobering effect on Provisional President Huerta, and prevent him from going to further extremes. Strong representations went forth from the United States to the Mexican federal authorities yesterday, calling upon General Huerta to protect the lives of the imprisoned deputies. It was pointed out that this action was taken not because the United States has any desire to interfere in the internal affairs of the southern republic, but in the cause of humanity. Similar representations were made when Madero and Suarez were arrested. Whether or not the protest of the United States against injuring the deputies will be followed by any drastic action, should Huerta defy all warnings and punish the deputies, is one of the questions being discussed by those who are shaping the administration's policy.

No change in the attitude of this country was announced Monday, but President Wilson and his advisors are debating what the next step should be, and today's cabinet meeting may bring forth a decision on the subject. Another subject that is occupying the attention of the officials is the yellow fever epidemic in Carmena and Campeche. American warships usually lie a few miles off the coast and are not in danger, but refugees who are being constantly picked up will be carefully examined. More care will be taken by navy doctors in granting shore leave to American sailors.

ESTIMATE OF CROP MADE AT OTTAWA SHOWS BIG GAIN

Figures for 1913 Indicative of Prosperity for Farmers.

AVERAGE WHEAT YIELD 21 BUSHELS; OATS 40

Report Shows Increase in Amount of Every Crop over Last Year and High Quality.

Ottawa, Oct. 15—A bulletin issued Monday by the census and statistics office of the department of trade and commerce gives a provisional estimate of the yield of the principal grain crops, and also the average inequality of these crops at harvest time. During the month ended Sept. 1 ideal weather in gathering of the grain crops prevailed all over Canada. In the greater part of Ontario and in the western provinces harvesting operations were well completed by the middle of September, and only in parts of Quebec and the maritime provinces, where the spring opens later, was harvesting carried on during the later end of the month.

The estimates given a month ago are slightly greater than those now issued, which may be presumed to be based more or less on results of the threshing.

The final estimates, based altogether on the threshing results and calculated on corrected areas, will be issued as usual on December 15.

Comparison With 1912.

For spring wheat estimated at the end of September is 188,468,000 bushels, as compared with 182,240,000 bushels last year. For fall wheat the estimate is 19,107,000 bushels, as against 16,396,000 bushels last year and 18,481,000 bushels in the preliminary estimate this year. The total estimated wheat production this year is therefore 207,575,000 bushels, as compared with 199,236,000 bushels last year, an increase of 8,339,000 bushels, or 4½ per cent. The yield per acre for all wheat is 21.15 bushels, as compared with 20.42 bushels last year. Oats show a total yield of 293,418,000 bushels and an average yield of 40.57 bushels, as compared with 361,733,000 bushels and an average yield of 39.25 bushels. For this year the total production of rye is 2,559,000 bushels, of peas 3,974,000 bushels, buckwheat 7,600,000 bushels, of flax 14,913,000 bushels, of mixed grains 17,178,000 bushels. Compared with last year—buckwheat 10,193,000, flax 21,651,500, mixed grains 17,852,000, corn for husking 16,569,800, beans 1,340,800 bushels.

For the three northwest provinces the total is as follows: Spring wheat is estimated at 183,852,000, of fall wheat 5,244,000 bushels, oats 225,595,000, barley 27,904,000, rye 686,000, flax 14,808,000 bushels.

Quality is High.

The average quality of these crops measured upon a per cent. basis of 100, well filled, well saved and unaffected to any appreciable extent by frost, rust, smut, etc., represented therein, is as follows:

Spring wheat 89.17, oats 90.52, barley 88.25, rye 85.41, peas 91.71, beans 78.48, buckwheat 73.40, mixed grains 90.54, flax 82.68, corn for husking 75.16. Of these, wheat, oats, barley and rye are above the average quality for either of the last two years. The potato and root crops continue to show good figures, as representing average conditions during growth. The condition of the potatoes is 83.59, turnips 82.62, mangolds 83.64, sugar beets 82.63.

Visiting the City—Waller Ford of Saskatoon is in the city, staying at the Pendennis hotel. Waller used to be one of the pitchers of the Gray Birds.

SCHOLARSHIPS FOR OVERSEAS SEATS OF LEARNING

Cheshire Education Authorities Take Initiative—Immense Openings in Colonies.

London, Oct. 15—The Cheshire education authorities took the initiative Monday in an arrangement that has long been advocated here, of instituting a number of scholarships between the universities of the overseas dominions, and the United Kingdom.

In the course of his remarks, Dr. Hodgeson said they had been in communication with the McGill authorities at Montreal, and had arranged that Cheshire county and technological scholarships might be held for the whole or part of three years for which they are awarded, in the class of engineering studies at McGill. At this particular university alone, continued Dr. Hodgeson, 60 students in engineering were coming out each year, but as against this available supply, there were no fewer than 400 employers of labor applying for engineering graduates. There were immense openings in the colonies for engineers with university training, and he thought it would be a good thing for scholarship holders to spend two years at a British university and go to McGill university for the completion of their studies.

WOMEN IN GOLF TOURNEY.

Wilmington, Del., Oct. 15.—Miss Gladys Ravenscroft of the Bromborough Golf club, England, won the qualifying round in the national woman's golf championship tournament Monday on the links of the Wilmington country club, with a card of 88, 16 strokes above par for the course. Miss Muriel Dodd, British and Canadian champion, and Miss Harriet Curtis of Boston tied for the second and third honors with 91 each.

OTTAWA PLANING MILL BURNS.

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The big planing mills of the Greater Ottawa Lumber company here were destroyed by fire Monday with a loss of $60,000. The blaze is thought to have originated from overheated machinery. Owing to the inflammable nature of the structure the fire spread with great rapidity and several employees had narrow escapes.

NURSE'S YEARS OF EXPERIENCE

Proves Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Best Treatment for Kidney and Stomach Troubles.

The trained nurse has even greater opportunities than the doctor himself to watch the action of medicine in specific cases.

For years the writer of this letter has been recommending the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills among her patients, and is firmly convinced that no treatment is so prompt and effective.

This is the most valuable evidence obtainable, and we believe that all who know Mrs. Duffy will appreciate it to the full, knowing that she would not recommend anything in which she had not the fullest confidence.

Mrs. Duffy, nurse, 35 Lewis street, Toronto, writes: "I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for years, and recommend them to my patients for all disorders of the kidneys, liver and stomach. In all my professional experience I have found nothing better." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

VARICOSE VEINS AND ITCHING PILES

Usually Arise From Same Cause—Relief and Cure Effected by Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Nearly everybody knows of Dr. Chase's Ointment as the most effective treatment for piles or hemorrhoids that medical science has been able to compound. So much suffering and misery arises from this ailment that one is not long in telling his friends when he has found an actual cure. This accounts for the enormous sales of Dr. Chase's Ointment.

This letter tells of relief from the suffering of varicose veins by the use of Dr. Chase's Ointment. Many suffer from this trouble not knowing the comfort to be obtained by the use of this great soothing ointment.

Mrs. R. J. Evans, 187 Munro street, Toronto, writes: "We have used Dr. Chase's Ointment for years. I have been troubled with varicose veins, and find it the only thing that gives relief. For every purpose when a soothing, healing ointment is needed there is nothing so good as Dr. Chase's Ointment." 60 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

A second prize of $750 went to Chas. F. Niles, in a similar biplane, who covered the course in 54:55. C. Murvin Wood in an 80 horsepower monoplane won the third money, $500. His time was 58:19. Only two others started, J. Guy Gilpatrick in a monoplane of 80 horsepower, and Tony Jannuz, in a 75 horsepower biplane, finishing as named.

Premier Delivers Budget Speech Showing Satisfactory Surplue

Budget Speech.

Mr. Sifton: Mr. Speaker, I move that Mr. Speaker do now leave the chair and the house resolve itself into a committee of supply. In moving this motion it has become a time-honored custom that a few remarks should be addressed to you and to the members of the house, and through them to the public, with regard to the public business, the reasons why the legislative assembly are asked to grant the estimates and the manner in which the public business has been carried on. In addressing you this afternoon in regard to these important questions I think it would be well if I should say a few remarks with regard to the wonderful advances made in this country within the last few years. The figures that we have been dealing with are a wonderful argument in regard to the advancement of this country. I happened accidentally this morning to run across the figures of the last estimates that I had the privilege of preparing as treasurer for the northwest territories in the year 1903. These estimates were prepared in what we then considered to be extreme liberality. We thought that we had been spending more money than had been spent for a number of years, and the general public thought we were spending a good deal more money than we had been in the habit of spending, and when we consider that the territorial government at that time was responsible for both of the great provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan, we find that these figures only were $637,224 for the carrying on of the public works of the government of the two provinces only 10 years ago.

Great Advance in Revenues.

When I saw that I looked up the estimates that were passed in the first year after the province was formed, and I find that these estimates were $1,916,081.07 in the year 1906. When we see these figures and consider that, aside from borrowed money for anything of that nature, that the estimates for the year 1914 show a revenue of the province from all sources outside of loans of $5,272,175 we feel that there has been a great advance in the amount of money that is available from all sources for the benefit of this country, and the income arising practically outside of the Dominion subsidies from the same kind of sources that the old revenue did shows that the population is not only increasing very largely itself but it has become more able to pay and has expended wonderful amounts during these 10 years and even during the seven years since the province was formed. The items of receipt and expenditure are set forth in detail in the estimates brought down and laid upon the table but I think it would be interesting before proceeding upon a discussion to read these items so that you can understand the great increase there has been, not only in the revenue, but also in the expenditure.

Receipts.

The Dominion subsidy is the first item ..... $1,440,372
School lands fund ..... 260,000

Expenditures.

The expenditure is as follows:

Credit Not at Standstill

It has been said at times, perhaps not for the purpose of injuring the country or anything of that kind, that our credit is at a standstill. It has been said that we are not carrying on the public works that should be carried on in the country, in fact there are a great many things that have been said at times and for various reasons, but I think the members of this legislature will agree with me that these figures in themselves show that there has not been anything so dreadfully wrong in the carrying on of the government of this country when the revenues have advanced in the way they have without any direct taxation, when everything has gone on in the way of public improvements that has gone on during the past seven years. I think it goes to show that at any rate the government has paid some attention to the manner in which the conduct of the public business should be carried on. I think these figures themselves are eloquent as showing the responsibility that rests upon the members of this house. When there were only a few thousand dollars to spend in various ways for the benefit of the country it was not so serious but when this legislature comes to a revenue of five millions then it becomes a serious matter for every member of this assembly whether he be a supporter of the government or the opposition, and he should consider the seriousness of the question and the responsibility of reflections that might be made upon the credit of this country.

Much Expenditure Uncontrollable

As is well known to every member of this assembly a great portion of these revenues are practically expended in ways that are not under the control of the government but are necessary expenditures in the way of carrying on the affairs of the country. The attorney general has important work in connection with the administration of justice and there is the agriculture department and the educational department, and when it comes to the carrying on of large public works it becomes an absolute essential in this state of the development of the province that very large amounts of money should be raised upon the credit of this province for purpose of keeping pace with the rest of the dominion and keeping pace with the promises that we have made to the people we have asked to come to stay in this country. If there is one thing more than another in connection with the conduct of the affairs of this province occupying at the present time that is of interest to me, it is the criticism that is made by the members of the opposition in connection with the moneys that is done by the department I have the honor to preside over. I have no hesitation in saying that those who the members of the opposition desire to conduct their own business, but I have very strong views in regard to the credit of this province. It is quite possible to criticise the estimates that are brought down and to criticise the work of this government without going to the length of injuring the credit of the province and, incidentally, keeping people out of this province and keeping capital out of the province. No money should be raised unless it is absolutely necessary, and I am quite willing to seriously consider whether it is not possible to take these estimates item by item and raise any objections they may be inclined to in regard to the conduct of this government without hinting or assuming that the conduct of this government is such that we should not be able to borrow money in the money markets of the world. I do not wish on behalf of this government to raise credit for everything good that has taken place in the province since the year 1905. There are a few little things that have happened without the assistance of this government. This year, for instance, Providence has favored us with a magnificent harvest, and I have no doubt a large portion of the credit is due to the agricultural department, but not the whole of it. The administration of justice has gone on improving year by year, and in respect to this, although I do not claim the whole credit, because we have a law-abiding country the people who are not interested and who do not pay special attention to the way it is done have no idea of the amount of time and careful thought that is absolutely necessary in order to keep the province to the front as a law-abiding community and attract the kind of immigration we require.

Labor Legislation Pattern For Others.

But I do say, notwithstanding the fact that there are some things for which we are not entitled to credit, that there are other things for which this government and legislature are entitled to credit. It is well known and admitted from one end of the dominion to the other that legislation introduced and carried into effect by this government during these seven years in regard to the laboring classes has been an example to the other provinces of the dominion and to many states of the United States of America. That is the result of careful attention on the part of the people who make a specialty of that particular kind of legislation and the result has been good. The result has been such that we have a better satisfied community at the present time than there is in any other province of Canada. That is worth while, and if this government had done nothing else except bring about that state of affairs it has justified their existence and the money that has been expended during these years. There is another large element in the population of the province and that is the farming community.

Benefitted Farming Community.

During these years there has never been a time at which the farming community required assistance in the way of legislation and brought it to the attention of this government that their desires have not met with serious consideration and they have received the very best measure of attention that it was possible to give them under the constitution of this country. The result has been that the farmers are placed on a better footing in a great many respects than they are in any other province, and as this country depends largely upon this farming community for its success I say that the government has done well in looking after their interests. One of the items that appears in the estimates this year is the sum of $300,000 for the purpose of assisting in the building of elevators throughout this country and already 50 elevators have been built in the province and 50 more will be built next year under this legislation and we will go on building them until the farmers of the province have better accommodation for their grain that is essential for the proper preservation of it and the getting it to market. This might be some people be referred to as class legislation, but the success and prosperity of Alberta depends upon these things and upon these farmers and I think I am safe in saying that legislation in regard to the mines of this country and in regard to the farmers is legislation that not alone affects the man that goes down into the coal mine for the purpose of earning a living and incidentally assisting in the development of the country, not alone the farmer who goes out and does a good day's and day after day and night after night in a great many instances for the purpose of saving his crop, but these two great sources of wealth are the interest of every man, woman and child who lives within the province whether he lives in a town, village or city or in the outskirts of civilization, their success and life is the success of every citizen in the province and legislation in the interests of these two kinds of people is legislation for the interests of every man who resides within our boundaries.

Millions Spent on Public Works.

Millions have been spent by this government and by the preceding government in the building of public works in this country, and I must congratulate the members of this assembly on the fact that some, at least, of the more expensive of these buildings are now complete, but it will be necessary to go on year after year building public buildings throughout the length and breadth of this great province, and it will be necessary for many a long year to come that money shall be borrowed for the purpose of building these buildings, and it will be my duty, so long as I act as treasurer, occasionally to ask this legislature to authorize these loans so that the money may be expended in the best interests of the province. The many millions that have been spent in that way upon these buildings and upon the roads and highways has been spent so far as the public is to the knowledge of this government without one single complaint in reference to the expenditure of one dollar that the public of this province have complained or not in the interests of the country. It may be, and I should not be surprised this session if some difference of opinion should arise among some of the members of this assembly in reference to the location of some of these works—these are matters where there is liability to difference of opinion—but these are matters upon which the government exercises its best judgment and does the best it can, and therefore subject to criticism and probably criticism, if they fail to meet the requirements, but one thing that has not been said is that one dollar has been wrongfully expended or that any benefit has accrued to any member of the government with reference to the expenditure of these many millions of dollars. And another thing, and one that is important in the conduct of any government or any public business, is that it has been expended with the least percentage of cost for the administration of the different parts of this country than in either of the three prairie provinces that are closest to us here. The figures in regard to these matters are at the disposal of any member of this house, and prove conclusively the statements I have made.

Telephone System Approved.

In addition to these important matters of public works I have referred to, this government, as is well known, has successfully carried on the work in the telephone system that meets with the approval, I think, of the majority of the citizens of Alberta. We will have at the end of this year expended eight millions. Provision is made next year for one million additional, which will make at the end of next year nine millions of dollars expended on the telephone system. Eight millions has been expended, notwithstanding that we are dealing with a sparsely settled country, notwithstanding that we are dealing with conditions that no telephone company ever dealt with before on the civilized globe, yet the first day of January next. And it is intended to carry on the work just in that way. It is not the idea of the government to make this surplus larger than it should be in the interests of safety. It will be necessary that the telephone rates in this country should be increased.

Rates May Increase.

It is one of the peculiarities of the business that the larger the business done in connection with the telephone system in any particular municipality the more expensive it is per subscriber, but that does not affect the profits of wholesale business, and the reason for it is plain when you come to consider it. If you take a village where there are 100 subscribers, each one of which can only call up 99 people. When he has done that he has gone to the limit. If you double the telephones in that village and have 200, each of them can, and does at times, call up 199 people and in that way the ratio goes on increasing in the large cities, not in that exact proportion I have mentioned, but in a very great proportion. In cities of 50,000 or 100,000 a great portion of the commercial business is carried on by the telephone and a single individual during the day hundreds of people in a day and the individual cost of each telephone is increased away beyond the initial cost of the telephones in the smaller towns. This renders it necessary that as towns and cities grow the rates will have to grow with them, but as I said before the policy of the government is to keep them down to the very lowest possible in order to encourage the business. There must always be a strong reason before a government steps in and interferes with the conduct of ordinary business be they large or small, and the reason why the government of the day assumed the possession by purchase of the telephone system was because the people of this country were not able to get the telephone exchanges they required. The company of that day refused to do business in the places where it paid good profits and refused to extend their system to those places where they did not think they would make a good profit, and it became absolutely essential for the government to take possession of the telephone system. Upon that policy they have acted year by year until it has attained its present proportions and they will have to go on, not perhaps in the same proportions but in a very large proportion year after year because when the government assumed the responsibility of providing a public utility they have to provide it upon business reasons and wherever business requires a public utility. As in every new district opens up it will be the business of this department managed upon business principles to give the advantages of it as a system just so long and just so far as it can be made to pay its own way and not be a charge upon the ordinary revenues of the province.

Many of these things have been referred to before, and will be referred to again and perhaps not always in as complimentary a way as I have referred to them now. I am quite aware that there are possible differences of opinion, but having been in charge of that department now for some three years I may possibly be allowed to be a little prejudiced in favor of the management of it and very optimistic in regard to its final success. I have no doubt in regard to the management up to the present time and the future management will be carried on in the same way and I have no doubt I will be just as well able to say here, if it should happen to be in my department, year after year that the telephone system is still referred to from one end of the civilized world to the other as being a brilliant success.

Railway Construction.

I suppose it might have been thought by some persons I would not be likely to refer to the railway question at this particular juncture of affairs, because we have had in this house some discussion of that matter. I do not think that, on that account, any remarks will be more brief than they might otherwise have been. I stated in this house in reference to the policy of this government that it was the intention of this government to keep on exactly the same policy as they had before. This government went to the people of this country assisting in the development of this country by assisting railway corporations by guaranteeing the bonds. It has been said, and truly said, that during the last year there has been a great amount of railway building that was expected a year ago, but I have no doubt that before the end of 1913 the prophecy I made at the last session of this house that there would be 500 additional miles of track laid, will be an accomplished fact, and instead of 1,500 there will be 2,000 miles on the first of January, 1914, and that is the policy of this government. The fact that the conditions of the money markets of the world have been such as to temporarily hold up some of the railway building is not one that the opposition should claim credit for. I do not give them the credit for accomplishing that result, but I do say that it is a matter of very great satisfaction to the province unites in feeling, that it has been a bad thing in some ways that there should have been a stringency in the money markets and more railway building and more have been carried on in the province. Notwithstanding that a great deal has been done and a great deal of work is going to be done next season and in every succeeding year, and it will be the duty in my estimate of the members of this legislature to assist these railway companies to the limit of the power of this legislature, because in this day and generation, although we have a province with great natural resources and farms and mines, it is absolutely essential that we should have the railway development. It is essential that this assistance should be granted liberally.

Railways Will Not Cost a Dollar.

It have no hesitation in saying that every individual in the province asked or are being assisted by this government will not cost this country a dollar. But there are many things to be taken into consideration in regard to the railway development of this country. Times have changed in a great many respects since the year 1906. In the year two provinces spent $637,000, but in no way have they changed more than in the increased cost, not only of living, but of doing any work that is accomplished in the province or any other portion of the dominion. When the Calgary and Edmonton railway was built it was built by Mackenzie & Mann and James Ross, and it was completed for $10,000 a mile, and it was not completed very well, and some of us will remember it took two and a half days to come from Calgary to Edmonton. We had to stay over occasionally in Red Deer while the train men went ahead to prop up the track running through the sloughs in that neighborhood for the purpose of getting the train across under the management of the C.P.R. The same men have built a line from Calgary to Edmonton within the last four years at an expenditure in the neighborhood of $25,000 a mile to put it in the same condition. And I may say that the Grand Trunk Pacific line from Tofield to Calgary has cost $27,000 a mile, and the line from Blackfalds to the Brazeau has been built at an expenditure of $33,000 a mile.

It is evident that this government has assisted these railways up to the extent of respectively $13,000 or $14,000 or $15,000 and $20,000 a mile, I think, and that is a very great saving in regard to the cost of the security and the first mortgage bonds upon these railways which places this province in a position—and I suppose I will be delighted if it should ever arise that all these railways at one time unanimously come to the government of this country and ask us to take them off their hands for the first mortgage bonds.

Cannot Have Government Ownership

If we could get them all I would be pleased to go in for government ownership, but until the time comes that we can get them all we cannot assume government ownership with regard to some particular line for the purpose of running in opposition to three or four others that the various governments of the country have assisted to be built and for which a good profit and reasonable that they should earn interest. I am mentioning these things because they will come before this legislature from time to time in the future and I am so stating this because it is essential that the public of this country should understand the actual position the government takes in regard to them. It is important that this statement should be known so that the people may be posted some-times to say that the government is in the hands of one particular railway corporation or another particular railway corporation, that we cannot build a railway unless we get the consent of McArthur or Mackenzie and Mann, or the Grand Trunk Pacific are looking after this thing and we cannot get it unless we do, etc. But look at what has been done the past three or four years, the various railways that have been assisted since 1905 by this government where in every instance the government has considered every proposition that has been made to it upon its merits and regardless of any particular corporation controls the destinies of any particular railway. If it is in the interests of the province it is going to receive the assistance of the government if it is reliable enough, or that the government may know the country is not going to have to meet the expense and get no money.

Natural Resources.

There is one other matter that it would be improper to close any speech in the Alberta assembly without casual reference to, and that is the requirements of this province in regard to being placed upon an equality with the other provinces in the Dominion of Canada in reference to the control of the natural resources. It has been said in some places—I don't know for why or what reason—that this is a late issue with the liberal party. I think that those who were in this country during the early days, before the people of this country agitated for provincial rights—those who were in Manitoba during the long years during which the friends of the country were pledged in favor of equality will know that, so far as the liberal party west of Lake Superior is concerned, there has never been a difference of opinion in regard to the absolute necessity of equality of absolute equality. There have been differences of opinion in regard to the way in which this should be managed; there have been differences of opinion as to whether it was necessary or politically wise for the benefit of the people of these struggling provinces, but there has been no difference of opinion as to the necessity of equality being looked upon as the one guarantee on which the confederation of the Dominion of Canada can be a permanent success. It is not necessary to go into details in connection with this matter, but I do on behalf of this government feel I have the united support not only of every liberal in the assembly, and every liberal in the province, but of every liberal west of Lake Superior, when it is the fight will go on until the prairie provinces have the same rights as the other provinces in the Dominion of Canada.

Provincial Conference.

We were called upon by the people of the eastern provinces to go to Ottawa, and although many important matters may be discussed at the conference the one that was the first reason for calling us was that the maritime provinces desired to be placed upon an inequality with the other provinces of Canada. That is plainly a platform upon which I, as representing the province of Alberta, would like to go to a provincial conference; but if I go there I feel I am safe and that I have the feeling of the province of Alberta, regardless of party politics, when I insist upon the one basis of equality for all in connection with natural resources, that I will be upon that basis, and that basis alone, and justified in asking the confidence of this house, and the confidence of the people of this province, so long as this government remains in power, or long as it carries on the affairs of this country in the way in which it has carried them on during the last seven years, so long as it continues to give justice to the people of Alberta, so long as it continues to spend the public money in the interests of the people and not in the interests of the classes, so long do I feel justified in asking the confidence of this house and the confidence of the people of Alberta.

YOUNG CRIMINALS SHOULD NOT BE CLOSELY CONFINED

Should be Given Work in Open, Says Superintendent Chadwick of Edmonton,

ADDRESSES INDIANAPOLIS CONVENTION ON SUBJECT

States That Outside Work is Productive of Beneficial Results to Prisoners.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 15.—Youthful criminals should not be confined in prisons, where contact with the vicious will impel them to a life of crime, but should be given work in the open, work of the kind to which they are naturally inclined, is the opinion of R. B. Chadwick, superintendent of delinquent and neglected children for Alberta, Canada.

Mr. Chadwick's views were voiced before the American prison association at its annual meeting here in an address today entitled "Outside work as a preventive measure and as a reformatory method." The growth of the system in prisons, Mr. Chadwick asserted, is productive of justice toward boys and men which cannot be over-estimated. The basis of such a system, he continued, should be common sense. On the one hand, he said, a system founded purely on sentiment will prove unsatisfactory and ineffectual. On the other hand, sound administration has brought out that too close incarceration has often fostered a spirit of rebellion.

Probation as a Preventative.

In part, Mr. Chadwick said: "Probation has done more work as a preventative agent in dealing with young offenders than any other scheme yet devised. Probation in dealing with the hardened type of criminal is futile and useless, as though the probation system the criminal succeeds in getting lenient treatment without proper supervision of his surroundings.

"There is a group of offenders who are not hardened criminals, but who have to be taken care of. This group forms the largest of any of the various classes that have to be dealt with under criminal law. They are not sufficiently hardened to be considered as criminals, but they have gone beyond the stage when they can be considered as possible of correction under the system of probation. When a boy or young man has fallen down under probation, and has become an habitual offender, it has been deemed advisable to deal with him by some more rigid form of correction than probation offers. The reformatory method has been used with great success.

Earnings Should Be Guarded.

"When a boy is brought before the juvenile or district court in Canada and handed over to the department of neglected children as a neglected child, and made a ward, he is put under the supervision of an agent or inspector of the department. His earning capacity must be guarded, as he is liable to be robbed by unprincipled employers of child labor unless an agreement is entered into and arrangements made as to the particular amount of money he is to receive in addition to board and clothing. The money is placed to the account of the officer who has charge of the boy, and a report made for each month specifying expended in order that the amount may be justly accounted for in the final settlement with the lad."

Farm Work as a Solvent.

Mr. Chadwick outlined the work in Alberta which is being done under his supervision. It was just as important, he said, to find the particular sort of work for which a youthful criminal is naturally fitted as it was to find work at all. The farm had solved the question in many instances, but not in all. The work at the prison farm, he added, was watched by the provincial authorities, and similar work would be copied by the provincial jail in the near future. In conclusion, he said: "The basis of such a system should be common sense. A theory which relies only sentiment as a basis will fail down and prove unsatisfactory and most ineffectual. On the other hand, practical, common-sense methods have often proved that too close incarceration has brought about a certain spirit of rebellion, and outside work has developed the principles which go to make a right man, and results in the recognition of the sense of human weakness in many instances dormant. In the case of almost all boys easily get-at-able. To help the boy or the man it is as necessary to know his weakness as it is to know his strength.

"The system in Alberta is comparatively small, as both boys and adults can be handled with a great deal less money under this system than any other. Outside work in any form has proved an enormous deterrent to crime, particularly in incipient cases, and, properly handled, will likely prove the first offenders, both of juvenile and adult type."

INTERPRETS TARIFF RULES

Ottawa, Oct. 15.—The customs board on the strength of the appeals from the rulings of collectors has made interpretations of the following items of customs tariff: Tractor hitches and engine guides declared to be dutiable under tariff item No. 447; basic furnace slag, dutiable, fire brick purchased before May 13, 1913, and entered for duty prior to July 13, 1913, shall be dutiable under the regulations in force May 12, 1912.

LABOR LEADER DIES.

Wilkesbarre, Penna., Oct. 15.—John Fallon, a member of the national executive of the United Mine Workers of America, died here last night of peritonitis, following an operation last Friday. He was an active labor leader and had participated in the settlement of every general coal strike during the past four years.

WEDDING PRESENTS OF GREAT VALUE FOR ROYAL PAIR

Comprise Jewels in Abundance and Gold and Silver Plate of Ancient and Modern Make.

London, Oct. 15—In a wonderful setting, with palms and pale flowers seen against a sombre background of ancient and priceless tapestries, Prince Arthur of Connaught and the Duchess of Fife will be married today in the little chapel Royal in St. James palace.

Presents have been showered upon the bride and bridegroom, including jewels bi abundance, and gold and silver plate of ancient and modern manufacture. One estimate places the value at $750,000. The Duchess of Marlborough sent an old silver hot water jug. Mrs. Whitelaw Reid presented a George III. silver coffee pot. Lord Strathcona's gift is an automobile. Mrs. John Astor sent an old Colpitt desert service. Mrs. Waldorf Astor added to the collection an old Worcester tea and coffee service. Other gifts are: Lord and Lady Theilsomore, clear and cabochon emerald pendant; Sir John and Lady Maxwell, Chippendale table; Lady Naylor Leyland, blue and gold electric lamp; Mrs. Morton Prewen, two-handle vase on stand; General Sir Arthur and Lady Paget, silver gilt bowls. Hundreds of gifts are now laid out in the Queen Anne chamber in the centre of which stands a wedding cake, six feet high. It was made by the king's chef at Buckingham palace.

The prince, whom the king appointed knight of the thistle, is in the happiest mood. He made a tour of the presents yesterday. One gift particularly took his fancy, a gold ring. Credence is given the report that the first part of the moneymoon will be passed at the Sandwich links.

The Duke and Duchess of Connaught, accompanied by Princess Patricia, will leave Liverpool on Friday for Canada.

Prize Fighter is Considered Old Man After Passing 30

At No Other Line of Work or Sport do Men Grow Old so Rapidly as in the Boxing Game.

By W. W. Naughton

San Francisco, Oct. 15.—What a funny business "box fighting" is to be sure.

A Milwaukee club recently announced the signing of Battl'ng Nelson and Ad Wolgast and immediately loud guffaws resounded through the hills and hollows of sportdom.

The idea of yanking the two old derelicts out of the sarcassea sea of pugilism seemed too amusing for anything.

Wolgast is 25 years of age and Nelson has turned 31, yet the Wild Cat and the Dane are jeered at as though the memory of man scarcely reached back to their hey-day.

Where on all this wide earth is there a line of endeavor, apart from fisticuffs, wherein men are considered to have outlived their usefulness at either 25 or 35? Why, Oheer himself never dreamed of setting a man's prime as close to the cradle days as that.

But the fact seems that so far as their field of activity is concerned Wolgast and Nelson are slippered pataloons. Neither one of them as a fighter is half as effective as he was when three years younger, and with their records staring us in the face the lesson adduced is that pugilism is the most wearing work a man can engage in.

Years ago there was a sporting contention that ring men were at their best from 25 to 35 years of age. The fallacy of the argument has been shown many times. Nelson, after years of invincibility, suddenly faded away and lost his laurels at the age of 27. Wolgast was relieved of his championship at 24. Here in San Francisco we had a youth, Eddie Hanlon, who was a battered old hulk and out of the game before he was 21.

The old saying has it, "tis not the miles we travel but the pace that kills." In pugilism its not years that are lived but the time spent at fighting that kills. Frequent training, excitement of combat and much hammering sap the vitality and, no matter what age a fighter starts out at, he is an old man, pugilistically, eight or ten years later.

Figures Tell Why Giants Were Beaten by Athletics

Final Summing Up of World Series Leaves No Question that the Best Team Won Championship.

The story of the victory of the Philadelphia Athletics over the New York Giants in the world's series, which closed Saturday afternoon, is told in the accompanying records. Sometimes figures do not set forth the real story of baseball, but here is a case in which there is nothing concealed.

The Mackmen outbatted and outfielded McGraw's Giants. They were better than the Giants on the bases, and their supposedly declining pitching staff was much better than even the supporters of the Athletics claimed.

The strength of New York was supposed to be in its pitching staff. Leaving Mathewson out of consideration, McGraw's pitchers proved easy for the great sluggers. Mathewson pitched and won a grand 10-inning game. In this instance Eddie Plank was the losing pitcher. Plank came back against Matty, and won the deciding game. All that the Giants did in the hitting line was two bingles, and Mathewson got one of these. On the other hand, Mathewson was hit just enough to win. His support was not perfect; it seldom has been in a world's series, but Plank outpitched him and was entitled to the game.

The batting of Baker in the final game makes him the real batting king, although Collins is close on his shoulder. Baker finished with an average of .429, Collins .421. Larry McLean, the former Portland catcher, may claim the top honors, as he had an average of .500, and was in the game most of the time after Chief Meyers had his finger split.

Eddie Collins carried off the base running honors. Bush, the former Missoula, Mont., pitcher, gained renown as the unexpected pitching phenom. Catcher Schang was really one of the central figures in the series. Not only was his catching wonderful, but his throwing was good, and his judgment fine. In addition to this he batted as if he had been accustomed to playing in world's series regularly. As a matter of fact he is a youngster in the big league, and this was his first look at a big series.

ESKIMOS WORKING HARD THIS WEEK

Preparing for Thanksgiving Day Game With Tigers—Game Should be Fast.

In spite of the bad weather, the Eskimos rugby squad is working hard every evening at Diamond park in preparation for the big Thanksgiving day game with the Calgary Tigers. The team is chuck full of enthusiasm and the practices are hard and fast. From present indications there is no way to figure it but that the Tigers are going to get trimmed beautifully. Of course, it is always foolish to predict the outcome of any sort of athletic contest for all signs fail when luck goes to work, but from the road it looks like the Eskimos are the better team by a large majority.

The battle Saturday against the Varsity showed the Eskimos what they could really do if they tried and gave them a much needed supply of confidence. They will go into the game next Monday confident that they can beat their old time enemies which is half the battle.

Deacon White has the squad in good running order with a goodly number of first class substitutes available so that it will be impossible to spoil the team if one or two regulars should be injured or compelled to remain out of the game.

The Eskimo line is working like machinery, playing low and is developing an impenetrable defense. The offensive department of the team will have nothing on the defensive department in next Monday's game. It will be a case of "We'll hold them if you'll beat them."

The prospects are that if the weather is good a record breaking crowd will see the game Monday as the match is exciting more interest than any rugby match that has been played in Edmonton for many a day. There will no doubt be a strong contingent of fans from the southern metropolis to root for the Tigers and owing to the keen rivalry between the two teams there should be some lively doings.

ROYAL PRINCE IS DEAD GAME SPORT

Plays Football Against Stokers and Catches Place on Regulars.

London, Oct. 15.—The spectacle of a royal prince tackling burly coal stokers in a rough and tumble game of football was seen yesterday at Portland. Prince Albert, the king's second son, played in a trial match and there he displayed so much skill that he gained a place on his ship's team. Once the prince tackled a stoker and brought him to the ground but with himself underneath. When the game was over the prince gave the stoker money with instructions to take the men to the canteen and buy them beer as they liked.

TODAY IN PUGILISTIC ANNALS.

1858—John L. Sullivan was born in Boston on this date. "The Boston Strong Boy" was 21 when he began fighting, and within two years he fought his way to the top and defeated the redoubtable Paddy Ryan in a battle for the championship. He held the title ten years, although in 1888 little Charley Mitchell, the English champion, fought the Old Roman 39 rounds to a draw at Chantilly, France. Sullivan was a rushing, tearing, rough-and-tumble fighter with a right punch that rarely failed to bring home the bacon. In Corbett he met the master of speed, skill and defence, and the triumph of science over brute strength ushered in a new era in the boxing game.

1902—Abe Attell defeated Aurelio Herrera in 20 rounds at Oakland.

SPORTOGRAPHY.

CONGRATULATIONS TO JOHN L., 55 TODAY.

Congratulations are due today to John L. Sullivan, for this is the 55th birthday of the Old Roman who was once able to take the measure of all the mighty men of the ring. The ex-champion now divides his time between his farm and the stage. He has a through ticket on the water wagon, and is as tame and domesticated John compared with the scrappy big fellow who used to go rampaging around with a chip on each shoulder, always hunting trouble and making it where he couldn't find it. After running through several fortunes, "Yours Truly, John L." has accumulated another with which to cheer his declining days. He owns a fine 80-acre farm in Plymouth county, Mass., not far from Boston, and there he spends the summer months, living the life of a gentleman farmer. Rural joys haven't the power of holding John L. the year round, however, and in this he resembles most boxers, for whom the bright lights of cities have an irresistible appeal. Before Jeffries retired from the ring, he was always telling his friends that he intended to settle down on a ranch and spend the remainder of his life far from the busy marts. That dream ranch of Jeff's was a mighty attractive proposition, but when it came to investing his coin he found that he preferred the wet goods business. Bob Fitzsimmons was another fighter who was going to show the farmers how to farm, and he did buy a rural retreat in New Jersey. Instead of spending his time caring for his pumpkin trees, and his peach vines and apple bushes, and driving his geese to water, and such things, Bob may usually be found somewhere along Broadway, all dolled up in full dress regalia that is far from being the proper garb for those engaged in agricultural pursuits. Jem Mace, the old English champion, was given a farm on which to spend his last days, but he sold it and blew the proceeds in that dear old Lannon. John L. likes farming, however, taken in moderation, and he is very proud of his horses, cattle, chickens, and other live stock. Ever since he played the role of hero in "Honest Hearts and Willing Hands," which was a regular screech of a melodrama, John L. has been stage-struck. That play was full of thrills, but the line that always brought down the house was when John put his hands on his head, and, with business of intense mental concentration, said, "Let me think!" Somehow the idea of John thinking always struck the audience as being highly humorous.

SOUTH AMERICA IN FINANCIAL CRISIS

Brazil, Argentina and Chili Have Serious Business Problems to Solve.

The Buenos Ayres correspondent of the New York Sun states that several South American States are facing a crisis and that the outlook is anything but reassuring. He says in part:

The several South American States have almost lost interest in the Mexican situation, the proposed protectorate over Nicaragua, the Monroe Doctrine, and the possible future policy of the United States regarding the South American continent in their attempt to meet and handle the financial and commercial crisis that has come upon them without warning.

Brazil is in a bad way, both financially and commercially; Paraguay is only recovering from the last revolution; Uruguay is almost without money or trade and cannot borrow money in Europe after her rough handling of the French and English capitalists; Argentina requires millions of money, commerce is at a low ebb; Chili and all the west coast States are struggling along, waiting for the Panama Canal to open.

All South America depends on foreign capital and enterprise for its progress and prosperity. When for any reason financial assistance is not forthcoming it is thrown out of balance and forced to meet all the demands and requirements of the financiers of Europe if it is to maintain its credit and standing in foreign countries.

The war in the near east, with all its possible complications, over-speculation in land, carelessness in credits, and a general absence of economy and efficiency in all affairs, public and private, are responsible for the present serious situation. Local and State affairs are touching the welfare of the people are not given proper consideration. Too much energy is consumed in speculating on the place of the State in international affairs to which they are not parties, and in which they have no interest.

The States as a whole take themselves too seriously. They imagine, or seem to, that the future of finance and the manufactures of the world depend, in a large measure, on their word and their undeveloped industries and markets. The foreigner is welcomed if he comes with money to invest.

DIVER HAS WEIRD UNDERSEA BATTLE WITH AN OCTOPUS

Tells of Fight Through Telephone to Those at the Surface

MAN ESCAPES AFTER NEARLY HOUR'S STRUGGLE

Octopus Nine Feet in Diameter Found Later With Many Knife Wounds.

Alden Banks, Oct. 15.—Fighting furiously for 45 minutes against an octopus 35 feet below the surface of the water, at the same time talking over the telephone to his attendants in a scow on the surface of the water, giving them accounts of the remarkable battle as it progressed, and finally, practically uninjured, but in fainting condition escaping, was the remarkable experience of Walter McRay, a deep-sea diver, at Alden Banks, near Anacortes.

McRay was engaged by the Apex Fishing company to examine one of its fish traps on Alden banks, and on the third trip to the bottom he ran afoul of the fish most dreaded by divers. He had followed the lead for some distance when his foot was seized in the deadly grasp of the giant octopus. At the same time the big fish emitted a large amount of ink, turning the water in the vicinity absolutely black, and making it impossible for the diver to see his assailant.

James E. Hill, who was on the surface in charge of the assistants to McRay, stood with the telephone receiver at his ear. He heard a slight exclamation from the man below, followed by a violent pull at the life line as the diver was thrown off his feet. A few seconds later McRay said over the telephone:

"Now, keep cool. Don't get excited. A devil fish has got me."

The rest of the battle, as told by McRay and described by Hill, was as follows:

"When I heard those words, spoken by McRay as calmly as though he were greeting a friend on the street, my hair stood on end.

"The octopus, immediately after tripping McRay, had thrown two more tenacles about the prostrate man, one around his body, binding his left arm tightly to his side, and the other between his legs and reaching up his back. The head of the fish was on McRay's chest.

"Almost helpless, yet with his right arm free, he was able to draw his knife from his belt and defend himself. Fighting at the great depth of water and under heavy pressure the strain soon told on the diver and several times he nearly collapsed.

"At no time, however, did he appear to get excited or lose his head. For the entire 45 minutes which he struggled he gave me frequent bulletins as to how the fight was progressing.

"After McRay had succeeded in subduing the octopus he proceeded to free himself from the mesh in which he had become entangled.

"When he reached the top of the water the big fish still held a death grip on his left arm, and it was not until he was half out of the water that it let go and fell back into the water, from which it was dragged with a pikepole. McRay was completely exhausted when we brought him to the top."

When examined by the crew of the scow the octopus was found to have 11 wounds in its body. It measures nine feet in diameter.

FED TRAMP 24 YEARS AGO IS NOW LEFT FORTUNE

Cup of Coffee and Cold Biscuit Buys Big Returns

Evansville, Ind., Oct. 15.—A $37,000 reward for giving a cold biscuit and cup of coffee to a man who appeared to be a tramp in 1886 has been bestowed upon Mrs. Mattie Hannum in the final settlement of the Marshall McMurran estate. Mrs. Hannun was paid $27,000 in gold and received a deed to property valued at $10,000.

Twenty-four years ago Mrs. Hannum, who lives in Vincennes, was Mattie Drain, a servant girl, nineteen years old. One day McMurran, who was then a wanderer, called at the house where the Drain girl worked and asked for something to eat. The man of the house ordered McMurran away, saying he did not make a practice of feeding tramps.

Miss Drain, however, took pity on the man and fed him. That so impressed the man that he went to the house of a neighbor and wrote his will on a piece of brown paper, with the request that it be given to Miss Drain. The girl kept the piece of paper, little thinking it would ever be of any value to her.

Twenty-four years later McMurran, who had become an eccentric poet and miner, was found demented in a shack on the Stringtown road, near this city, and died in a few days. Under the floor of his hovel were found gold and silver amounting to over $50,000.

Following McMurran's death, Mrs. Hannun hastened to Evansville from Vincennes and filed the McMurran will in the probate court. No other will was filed.

Now, Edgar, said the teacher to one of the members of the primary class in grammar, what is the plural of tomato? Ketchup, was the prompt reply.

IVAN IVANOVITCH.

(Translated from the Russian.)

"I love you! Mary mia!" he cried. She hung her head, her eyes to hide. She raised her face, expression harried. "Kind sir," she said, "I've just been married."

The house was absolutely dark.

There was no light anywhere, not even there.

One couldn't see one's hand before one's face. Behind one's back it would have been equally impossible.

Ivan Ivanovitch entered the house softly and closed the door behind him. It shut sharply just as he closed it.

Ivan Ivanovitch was in the dark house. Alone.

No one else was there.

He walked up the steps one at a time. He did not skip any.

"This house is dark," he thought. "This is a dark house. I do not like a dark house." All this he thought.

He reached the second floor. It was as dark as the first, but higher.

"This is unbearable!" thought Ivan Ivanovitch.

Suddenly the second floor was flooded with light. A wooden bed in one corner, a chair in another, nothing in two others.

Ivan Ivanovitch had lit the gas!

News of the Markets

Winnipeg Grain Market

Winnipeg, Oct. 15.—For the first time this season the premium was off and No. 1 Northern to the tune of 86,000 bushels was delivered on the option. Even up to Monday spot 1 Northern was at a premium ⅛ to ¼.

All the markets were lower at the opening due to pressure of receipts, lack of export demand and the fact of 1,650 cars in sight for yesterday. During the morning there was some liquidation. Cash demand was poor and great trend of market weak and dull. Winnipeg dropped half to ⅝ on options and half to 1 cent on contract grades.

Oats were ½ to ⅝ down with little demand.

Flax is above export with no home demand and pricesare sagging steadily.

Options in old flax were down 1 to 1¼ and cash flax 1 to 1½ on all grades.

American markets were down. Minneapolis ¾ to ⅝ lower.

Corn dropped shortly. The reason given being good pasture and absence of the wet or cold weather in Kansas and stock requiring little feed.

Chicago Grain Market

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Meat prices tumbled yesterday to the lowest point so far on this year's crop. Bearish cables were what chiefly smashed the market and left the close nervous ⅞ to 1 cent down. Corn showed a net loss ⅜ to ½ to ¾ and oats a drop 1 to 1⅛.

Bears seized control of the wheat right at the start. The Liverpool market had undergone a sharp setback on account of thteh heavy shipments from the Black Sea and because of increased selling pressure from Australia. In addition the crop reports from Argentine continued to be of a flattering character.

Visible supplies, both European and domestic made big gains and thus formed an additional weight on the prices. The Canadian visible too exhibited an increase although of a less formidable sort. Diminishing of the receipts northwest was ignored as a statement was surrent that rural elevators were filled up and that any accumulations now would have to be shipped to terminal cities. Oats sagged with wheat. A huge enlargement of the visible supply total hindered any effort at a rally.

Chicago Live Stock

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Cattle receipts 4,000 market dull and weak; beeves, 700 to 955; Texas steers, 650 to 800; stockers and feeders, 525 to 765; cows and heifers, 360 to 840; calves, 700 to 1000; hogs receipts 21,000 market weak; 5 to 10 cents lower; light, 810 to 960; mixed, 800 to 865; heavy, 790 to 865; rough, 790 to 810; pigs, 500 to 800; bulk sales, 815 to 850.

Sheep receipts 30,000, market steady to strong; native, 390 to 500; yearlings, 500 to 600; lambs, native, 585 to 720.

New York Stock Markets

New York, Oct. 15.—The general levelling of the prices which overshadowed all developments in last week's stock market was resumed with some effect yesterday. Prices yielded from 1 to 3 points in many active issues, while stocks of less prominence lost greater ground.

While securities were at no time urgently offered, it was plain that supply was somewhat in excess of the demand. Among the leaders Southern Pacific was the featureof greatest weakness, its decline to the lowest price in five years beinng directly associated with the proposed suit of the governmentto force dissolution of the Southern Pacific and its last valuable asset, Central Pacific.

Surface conditions point to the revival of a large and aggressive short interest, whose operations have taken on greater scope by reason of numerous adverse factors. These include the abandonment of the Union Pacific "distribution" plan, the Mexican situation and financial conditions abroad, which are once more sufficiently tense to give rise to the belief in another early advance in the British bank rate. Foreign markets especially London, are again in a state of congestion, as shown by last week's unsuccessful underwriting.

Bonds were weak for the most part, some speculative issues declining a point. U. S. fours declined ⅛ on call. Total sales, par value $1,560,000.

Toronto Stock Market

Toronto, Oct. 10.—Stocks were depressed in the local exchange yesterday. The weakness in the Spanish River and allied issues, the heavy selling of the Brazilian and the depressed condition of the foreign markets all operating against values.

Brazilian was heavily sold, and on a business of over 1900 shares fell to 86¾, a decline 2 points for the day and within 4 points of its lowest of the year.

Spanish River common was steadily liquidated, and dropped 3½ points to a new low at 11½. The preferred was offered four points lower at 40.

Deal discussions and the figures of the exports failed to help Toronto railway, which fell over 2 points to 141½. Cement sold 32¾ and Twin City at 105.

Toronto Live Stock

Toronto, Oct. 15.—Receipts at the Union stock yards yesterday were 82 cars with 1,471 cattle, 204 calves, 647 hogs and 939 sheep and lambs. Under the pressure of the heavy receipts this week and the fact that both the Montreal and the Buffalo markets are meeting the same conditions, prices on the medium and commoner grades of cattle have declined from 15 to 20 cents. Choice quality cattle are comparatively scarce with prices steady to firm at last week's levels. Four extra choice butcher steers were purchased for Buffalo yesterday at $8. At the decline on the medium and commoner grades there is a good active trade and the market is steady.

Good stockers and feeders are steady. Hogs steady and unchanged.

Lambs firm, rough calves easier.

Today's quotations — Export cattle, choice, 725 to 775; butcher cattle, choice, 670 to 750; medium, 590 to 640; common, 350 to 400; butcher cows, choice, 500 to 575; good cows, 450 to 475; butcher bulls, choice, 500 to 600; good bulls, 365 to 450; rough bulls, 275 to 300; feeders, 600 to 640; feeding bulls, 475 to 525; stockers, 450 to 525; medium, 350 to 425; light, 350 to 400; canners and cutters, 250 to 300; milkers, choice, $60 to $85; common and medium, each, $35 to $45; springers, $40 to $65. Calves, 515 to 1000. Light ewes, 400 to 525; heavy, 325 to 350; bucks, 300 to 350. Hogs fed and watered 960; f.o.b., 935; off cars 835.

London Stock Market

London, Oct. 15.—Money was firm yesterday. Discount rates were inclined to ease off, owing to the fact that there was no foreign demand for gold which makes it particularly certain that the Bank of England will get the bulk of new gold offered.

The stock market was dull and irregular. Light buying hardened Kaffirs and Brazilian issues, but Home Rails and Argentine shares sagged some.

American securities were quiet during the forenoon. After Wall street opened selling depressed C. P. R. 2 points and Southern Pacific two. The rest of the list declined in sympathy but repurchases brought about a rally, and the market closed well over the lowest.

Montreal Produce

Montreal, Oct. 15.—The market for better and cheese is quiet. Eggs have an upward tendency. Cheese: Finest westerns 13¼ to 13⅛. Eastern 12¾ to 13¼. Butter, choicest creamery, 27½ to 28. Seeconds, 27 to 27½.

BUSINESS MEN SEND PRINTING TO OUTSIDE POINTS

Local Firms Send Approximating $200,000 to Shops in Other Cities.

BOARD OF TRADE ASKS THAT INTERURBAN ENTER

Recommend the Plebiscite Be Taken on Government by Elective Commission.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Edmonton board of trade the following resolution was recommended to be sent to the mayor and council: That this board of trade realizing the great value of the suburban lines of transportation in the upbuilding of a city, and respectfully urge the mayor and city council to use every effort to effect some arrangement with the interurban railway company which will afford proper protection to the city's interests, whereby that company will be enabled to at once connect up its lines with the city's street railway system, thus affording residents of Calder, Elm Park, St. Albert and the neighboring vicinity easy access to the city.

It was also recommended that the board of trade consider the advisability of sending a resolution to the mayor and city council asking that a plebiscite be taken to obtain the views of the citizens on the subject of government of the city by some form of elective commission.

The special committee instructed to promote arrangements for the improvement of conditions on McKenzie avenue reported progress, several conferences having been held with the officials of the railways interested and with the officials of the G.T.R. and city council, and negotiations are now pending between the company and the city council, which, it is hoped, will provide an early and reasonable satisfactory settlement of the whole question.

A report was received from the Edmonton retail merchants' association approving of a resolution approved by the associated boards of trade of western Canada, and presented as resolution No. 16, at the September convention of that body, held in Winnipeg, asking for certain legislation to facilitate the collection of small debts from debtors who are unwilling to pay. Your council endorsed the resolution referred to, and authorized the president to name a committee to represent this board of trade should it be found necessary to make further representation on this subject to the government or to the legislative committee when the matter comes up for consideration.

A communication from the Edmonton Typographical union, No. 604, was received regarding the large volume of printing that was being sent out of the city by Edmonton business houses. It was estimated that between $100,000 and $200,000 worth of printing is annually sent out of the city which could be easily handled by the city firms. This matter was sympathetically received by the board, who agreed that there must be something wrong somewhere that all this amount of money should be sent to eastern cities when the printing houses of Edmonton were quite capable of handling the same. A resolution was passed that the president name a committee that will endeavor to find out why the business men consider it necessary to send this large amount annually out of the city, or if it is the fault of the printers' prices, to try and come to some arrangement whereby they can arrange their prices so that they can compete with outside firms.

The secretary was instructed to write the board of underwriters pointing out that the conditions in regard to water supply, which were given as a reason by the underwriters for imposing a surcharge of 25c per $100 in Edmonton's insurance rates, has been eliminated by improvements which have been effected in the water service, and that a request be made for the immediate removal of this surcharge, if arrangements to that effect have not already been effected.

The secretary was also instructed to write the general manager of the Canadian Northern railway company pointing out that the C.N. line from Strathcona to Camrose has been practically completed for a long time, and asking for information as to when it is the company's intention to open this line for traffic.

Mr. A. T. Cushing then addressed the meeting, explaining briefly the purpose of the Edmonton Welfare association, and asking that the board of trade nominate a representative on the endorsement committee of that organization.

A resolution was passed instructing the president to nominate a representative.

NEWS OF THE CITY.

Will Hold Open Meeting.—Pride of the West I.O.O.F. lodge, No. 6, assisted by many kind friends, will give an open night on Thursday next, 16th inst., at the Blue Moon tea rooms, Rice street, at eight p.m., at which it is hoped as many as possible of our past and present members will be in attendance. Bro. P. S. Parrott, grand chief templar of Alberta, will preside. Strangers heartily invited. Come along and have a good time.

Brother Knapp is Right—Con Knapp, of the Mountain Springs Brewery, Calgary, is a visitor to the city, and is a guest at the Northern hotel. Mr. Knapp speaks very optimistically and thinks Edmonton is going to be a great metropolis.

Technical School Resumed.—The Edmonton technical school will resume work again next Tuesday, October 21. Thursday and Friday of this week are school holidays on account of the annual convention of the Northern Alberta Teachers' association, and next Monday is Thanksgiving day. Some of the classes are somewhat handicapped on account of a car of equipment being lost on the way here. Night classes will start next Wednesday, October 22, and Mr. W. L. Richardson, who is the director of the new technical school, states that anyone who may wish to join should do so early, as it is expected that these classes will be run to their full capacity, quite a number having been already applied.

Homesteads Opened—Last Thursday, October 9, a number of sections of land around Lac la Biche were thrown open for settlement. The land consists of townships 67, 68, 69, ranges 13, 14, 15 and 16, this being all good farming land. When it was known that the land was open for settlement a large crowd lined up outside the dominion land office on Howard street, and over 50 homesteads have been filed and more are being entered daily.

BE A BOOSTER FOR EDMONTON

Timely Suggestions to the Man in Street and Woman in House.

The following suggestions, prepared by the secretary of the board of trade, should appeal to every loyal citizen of Edmonton:

Your income depends on the success of Edmonton stores and factories. Spend your money where you make it.

He's a knocker. Don't give business to a merchant who doesn't push goods made in Edmonton. He's a knocker.

Boost for Edmonton. Insist on getting goods made in Edmonton. They're right. It pays. Spend your money where you make it.

You can't saw wood with a hammer. You knock Edmonton when you send away money that could be spent here. Don't be a knocker.

Your income would be mighty small if everybody sent away money that could be spent here. Buy goods made in Edmonton.

Only a knocker assumes that goods made in Edmonton are inferior to those produced elsewhere.

Your own income is dependent on the success of Edmonton stores and factories. Don't give business to a merchant who doesn't push made-in-Edmonton goods. He's a knocker.

Ever send away money you could spend here? If everybody did this, where would your living come from?

Don't be short Edmonton. There's no need. The truth is good enough.

You boost for Edmonton when you insist on getting made-in-Edmonton goods.

Made-in-Edmonton goods are generally superior to those offered in competition with them.

Edmonton's worst enemy is he (or she) who sends away money which could be spent here.

Don't assume that goods are better than home products because they come from a distance.

Want to boost Edmonton? Then don't send away money you can spend here.

Know how many factories there are in Edmonton? Buying their products? Why not?

How would you make your living if everybody sent away money which could be spent here?

To double the output of Edmonton factories is as good as doubling the number of factories.

You are an Edmonton citizen. Are you an Edmonton booster?

You are no booster for Edmonton if you don't buy Edmonton-made goods.

HUDSON BAY CO. WILL PAY NICE LITTLE SUM IN TAXES

Amount Reaches $243,000, Subject to Deduction of $24,300 for Prompt Payment.

With a very few exceptions all the tax notices have been mailed from the city assessor's office. The Hudson's Bay co. will pay more taxes than any other corporation in the city. The bill which they have received shows a total assessment on all the property now held by the company of $243,000. According to the rules laid down by the city commissioners, if the company will pay over this amount prior to November 15, a discount of 10 per cent. will be allowed. There is not the least possible chance of the company not taking advantage of this discount, as it means that they will benefit to the extent of $24,300, making their net assessment total $218,700.

This means that the city will receive $24,140 more than the amount paid over by the company last year, when the total assessment was $204,860, and the net assessment $194,560, the difference being a five per cent. discount allowed off for prompt payment. This year the discount rate has been increased to 10 per cent. and the company will therefore benefit to the extent of $24,300. At the same time the city will receive about a similar increase in the net amount to be paid over by the company. This is accounted for because of the increased value of the land and the increase in the rate of taxation from 12 mills last year to 16 mills this year.

EARTHQUAKE IN IDAHO.

Baker, Ogn., Oct. 15.—A severe earthquake shock of more than a minute's duration was felt at three o'clock yesterday afternoon along Snake river, on the Idaho-Oregon line. The towns affected are Homestead, Ore.; Ballard Landing, Landore and Cuprum, Idaho. Telephone lines were put out of commission and reports are meagre.
